WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, April 9, 1894.
(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Senator Hill is the bull in the democratic china shop just now, and as a smasher of political crockery he is a success. The first week of the tariff debate brought the free trade democratic Senators three separate and distinct defeats; small in themselves, but still defeats. The free traders are bewildered. They are asking each other "where are we at?" in piteous tones, and no one can give them a definite answer. The second week opened even more inauspiciously for them with Senator Hill's bold declaration of war against the tariff bill as it now stands. While Senator Hill's heaviest artillery is trained upon the income tax clause of the bill he intimates very strongly that the bill will not be satisfactory to him even with the income tax struck out.

It is an open secret in Washington that Mr. Cleveland is in sympathy with Senator Hill's attack on the income tax, indeed Senator Brice is authority for the positive statement that Mr. Cleveland is strongly opposed to the income tax. Mr. Brice does not hesitate to say that he also is opposed to the income tax, but he says he he has not yet decided how he will vote if he fails to get it struck out and also to get some other amendments he wishes adopted. Hill, Brice and the other dissatisfied democrats would gladly make a combination with the republican Senators to strike out the income tax and to amend the bill in a number of schedules, making the duties between those named in the bill and those in the McKinley law, but the republicans are not in a combining mood. They consider that the chances for defeating the bill have steadily increased for some time past and are not disposed to accept any thing less than its defeat, at least not at this stage of the proceedings. It will be time enough to talk about compromises three or four months from now, if in the meantime the bill has not been absolutely beaten or side-tracked.

Ex-Speaker Reed has had lots of things in which he could take satisfaction brought out on the floor of the House lately, but the acknowledgement he forced from Mr Sayers, chairman of the House Appropriation committee, that the total deficiency caused by insufficient appropriations by the 52nd Congress will reach the enormous amount of about $14,000,000, notwithstanding the "saving" made by "hanging up" old soldiers' applications for pensions, leaving them to starve while the adminmnistration keeps the money appropriated for them by Congress to use for other purposes at the end of the fiscal year when it can be covered into the Treasury and be made available to pay any existing claims against the government, was probably the greatest satisfaction he has had. It proved the appropriations made by the Fifty-Second Congress, controlled by democrats, to have been many millions greater than those made by the much abused "billion dollar or Reed Congress. Democratic economy is a thing that plays a big part in elections, but some how it has never yet been put into practical operation. The local protestations against Mr. Cleveland's nomination of the Kansas colored man—C. H. J. Taylor—whom the Senate refused to confirm as Minister to Bolivia to be Recorder of Deeds for the District of Columbia, had been so general and so strong that it is now almost certain that the Senate will reject the nomination. Home rule has always been strong in the Senate.

Representative Caldwell, of Ohio, who was elected Mayor of Cincinnati, the other day, was given an ovation when he returned to Washington Saturday. He will retain his seat in the House until May 1, but will probably resign the chairmanship of the republican Congressional campaign committee this week. His colleagues will be sorry to have him leave Washington, but they are confident that he will return some day.

The republicans of the House are making it plain to the democrats in that body that it is needless for them to attempt to do any political business without a quorum of their own. The republicans are not disposed to make the point of "no quorum" against the regular appropriation bills or other necessary business but inasmuch as there are 218 democrats in the House they will insist that 179 of them shall vote when partisan legislation is to be taken up or passed.

The democrats in the House have been quarreling among themselves ever since the beginning of the extra session about the repeal of the tax on state bank currency. Springer, of Illinois, chairman of Banking and Currency, is opposed to repeal, and he succeeded some weeks ago in killing it so far as that committee was concerned. Swanson, of Virginia, polled the democrats and claims that 129 of them favor unconditioual repeal. The matter is to be submitted to a democratic caucus tomorrow night, but there is no more likelihood of its being definitely settled than that a democratic caucus could agree on a silver bill.

TRAIN ROBBING PUNISHABLE.

An important and much needed execution of legal justice was witnessed in the hanging, at Newport, Arkansas, of the three train robbers who, in the carrying out of their scheme of plunder, shot and killed Conductor McNally. The crime of train robbing is a comparatively new form of the old-fashioned offense of highway robbery, but although new has become very frequent during the past two years, A few arrests and convictions have occurred, a few train robbers have fallen by the bullets of passengers or plucky trainmen, but so far as recollection serves the executions of yesterday at Newport are the first that have befallen train thieves who added murder to robbery.

It is perhaps no cause for reflection upon the administration of law that so few convictions have occurred for this crime. Train robbers usually travel in gangs; they are invariably masked; they halt trains at the dead of night in lonesome, sparsely settled localities, and, if successful, are miles away from the scene of the robbery when daylight makes pursuit possible. In recognition of the many difficulties attending the detection, arrest and conviction of this class of criminals railway and express companies have been disposed to arm and increase the number of train officials with a view to defense against robbing rather than with any sanguine hope of securing the arrest and conviction of the offenders.

The hanging of Brady, Wyrich and Hill within five months of the date of the crime of which they were convicted is an encouraging demonstration of the ability of the law to cope with this class of offenders and will do quite as much to discourage train robbing as the shooting down of thieves in the act of committing the crime. It is a warning to this class of criminals that they run two narrow chances of life in following their lawless career. If they escape being shot by the train guards they are traveling in the shadow of the scaffold all the remainder of their days with the pretty certain chance that the long arm and sure grip of the law will reach them eventually.

PROTECT THE TREES.

No one has had successful experience in orchard management but fully understands the value of washing the trunks of the trees in winter time. Lime wash colored to prevent the white glare has been found particularly valuable. Such can always result in healthy trees, though few have cared to inquire why. It is known that many of the diseases of fruit trees come from the germs of minute fungi, which float on the bark and germinate when the proper temperature arrives. The washes kill the germs. The California Fruit Grower recommends the following as an excellent wash for winter work:

Unslaked lime, 40 pounds, sulphur, 20 pounds; stock salt, 15 pounds; water to make 100 gallons.

Directions—Place 10 pounds of lime and 20 of sulphur in a boiler with 20 gallons of water, and boil over a brisk fire for not less than one hour and a half, or until the sulphur is thoroughly dissolved. When this takes place the mixture will be of an amber color. Next place in the cask 30 pounds of unslaked lime, pouring over it enough hot water to thoroughly slake it; and while it is boiling add the 15 pounds of salt. When this is dissolved add to the lime and sulphur in the boiler and cook for half an hour longer, when the necessary water to make 100 gallons should be added.

HE IS THINKING.

Just now every man who loves the split bamboo rod and shining reel thinks of little but the distant streams where the gamesome trout hide or bask or breach, says the Oil City Blizzard. His dreams by day and by night are of the ripple and the deep pools, those pools where the bubbles swim and on which the alder-filtered sunshine paints the day's mosaic of light and shade. His fancy perpetually reveals in fair casts, the swift taking of the fly, and then the panting struggle with every sense alert and each particular muscle quickened. The old stories are being burnished up afiew with the rennaiscance of rods and reels. Out of every reopened hook book comes a plethora of recollections, the crisp taste of early morn, the swach and gurgle of the wading and the fat contented basket. Anticipation mingled a pleasant potpouri, for with the 15th of the month the Pennsylvania trout season opens. Of course the facts will not perform the promises of the fancy; they seldom do, but notwithstanding that, followers of the immortal Walton can felicitate themselves anent the magnificent outlook for angling in the mountain streams.

THE COKE STRIKE.

Trouble Is Expected to Occur at the Hill Farm Plant This Morning.

Pittsburg, April 9.—A Uniontown, Pa., special to the Times says: It is not at all improbable that the coke strike, so far as the Frick company is concerned, will be declared off by to-morrow's convention at Scottdale, and a resolution passed endorsing the Frick scale. This scale provides for an increase in wages when the price of coke advances. "As the strike is now confined to works not paying scale prices," said a delegate to night, "the passage of such a resolution will solidify the ranks and compel the operators to at least establish uniform rates."

It is said tonight that should such a move as this be made by the convention to morrow the operators will fall into line and end the fight at once.

All the plants south of this place resumed work today and no attempt was made to stop them. The raiding was done early in the day at Youngstown, where mine men were stopped from working.

The strike is now confined to fourteen plants, located between Uniontown and Connellsville. None of the strike leaders have met since they were arrested. They are kept in separate apartments in the jail.

A Connellsville special says trouble is expected at the Hill Farm works of the Dunbar Furnace company. They attempted to start the works today, but the men were driven from the yard by a mob of strikers.

Shirer and Wister, of Philadelphia, who own the works here, arrived this afternoon and announced their intentions of starting the plant if all the strikers have to be killed. They ordered 100 Springfield sixteen shooting rifles, which were received on an evening train. They were placed in the hands of 100 determined men who were given orders to shoot all the strikers that offered resistance. A mob of strikers are said to be gathering in that vicinity and their actions are threatening. The trouble is not expected until the men go to work at 5 o'clock in the morning.

A Scottdale special says everything was quiet today in that vicinity and the continuation of the strike will depend upon the action taken at to-morrow's convention.

THE COXEY ARMY.

Uniontown, Pa., April 9.—Over the oldest and finest pike road in the United States, through a gladly picturesque region and into the western Zion of the coke region where the recent riots occurred, the Coxey band of crusaders marched today, 280 strong. It was a twelve mile tramp. The commonweal began its ascent of the foot hill of the Blue ridge, making for Maryland. Just one mile out of town, the army came to a toll gate and were held up for toll. This provoked a long desertation of the wrongs upon the laboring and farming people by both Coxey and Browne, but the army finally moved on after the required toll had been paid under protest. At towns along the route the country people gathered to see the famous army pass and Coxey delivered short speeches from his carriage. By 5 o'clock the boundaries of Uniontown were reached and there a band of fourteen pieces took the lead for the march through the town. Arriving at the place of camp the men were quartered in the dining hall. The camp was soon arranged and provisions in considerable quantity were placed at the disposal of the army. About 7 o'clock a hearty meal was served. To-night Coxey and Browne spoke to a large crowd at a down town hall and were enthusiastically received.

The three Coxey curios, Weary Iler, Jasper Johnson and "Cyclone" Kirkland, the astronomer, returned tonight from a dime museum engagement, but they must submit to a court martial before being received back into the Commonweal fold.

SEMI-MONTHLY PAY LAW.

Harrisburg, April 9.—Factory Inspector Watchorn is receiving a number of complaints from employes in the bituminous coal regions, stating that the law requiring workmen to be paid semi-monthly is being violated with impunity by operators. To-day a petition signed by 250 employes of Mitchell & Co., of Gallitzin, arrived, stating that these men were not being paid as required by law.

The Factory Inspector has decided to invoke the aid of the courts in construing the law, which the coal operators contend is unconstitutional. A case stated will be submitted to the Clearfield county courts, by agreement with ex-Judge Kreps, who represents the United Collieries Company and Wigton & Sons, coal operators, and the Factory Inspector, to test the constitutionality of the act.

—The Juniata Valley Campmeeting association held a meeting yesterday at Newton Hamilton, at which it was decided to open the camp grounds at that place on July 1 for the summer season. The campmeeting this year will open August 14 and continue ten days. A new feature will be the closing of the gates on Sunday during the meeting. Many improvements are to be made to the grounds and the boarding tents will be fitted up better than ever before.

STRONG-LUNGED STATESMEN.

Lafe Pence, of Colorado, has a high penetrating voice, but it isn't a circumstance to that of one of his predecessors, George C. Symes, who died recently. Symes was an Ohian by birth, served through the war in a Wisconsin regiment, and lived most of his life in the Rocky Mountain region, where he was a lawyer and an orator noted for his great voice. Compared with it the roar of the bull of Bashan was a gentle murmur. It was a deep heavy bass, proceeding, seemingly, from cavernous depths. Explaining the reputation his voice had given him, he said one day:

"Well, I'll tell you about it," and the words rolled out in his deepest, heaviest bass. "You see, I was out campaigning. I was addressing a Republican audience at Silverton. Over at Oroville, twenty miles distant, the Democrats were holding a meeting. Along about 9 o'clock there came up one of the awful storms which occur in that mountain country. The wind howled like a million devils. It was specially bad at Oroville. The people showed signs of alarm and acted as if they wanted to break up the meeting and leave the hall. The chairman, becoming anxious, rose to reassure them. 'Ladies and gentlemen,' he said, 'do not be alarmed. There is a Republican meeting over at Silverton and George Symes is addressing it. He has just come to the part of his speech where he denounces the Mills tariff bill, and the noise you hear is the indistinct rumbling of his voice."

Symes' voice was equal to that of Governor William Allen, of Ohio, commonly called "Old Bill Allen." He was noted for having the most tremendous voice of his day. Once when he was a member of Congress, before the days of railroads, one of his colleagues departed for his home in the Buckeye State. The day after he had left Allen was lamenting the fact that he had gone, as he wanted to consult him about some matter that had come up unexpectedly.

"That needn't trouble you, Allen," said a fellow member. "He hasn't got across the Alleghenies yet. Just go out on the balcony and call him back.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

"The man who wrote the railroad circular describing the climate of Southern California as akin to that of paradise is a confirmed—well, he's badly mistaken," said Walter F. Lewis, of Newberry, N. Y., at the Laclede last night. "I have just returned from Pasadena. Before I left New York I read of the balmy breeze, blooming flowers, singing birds, azure skies, etc., and pictured a heavenly place of rest, peace and enjoyment. It sounds nice to read those things, especially when a blizzard is howling about the house. I packed up and hurried to California, expecting to have no need of an overcoat or a fire. In fact no stoves or provisions for fire are obtainable out there. Why, I can't imagine. Two thirds of the time I was there a fire would have been most comfortable. It's chilly out there; a mean chilliness that makes a man feel sick. I had to build a fire in the yard of the place I stopped in order to keep my blood from congealing. It's no use to assert that fires are not necessary there. They are, if a person wants to be comfortable. As I was saying, I'll bet a barrel of apples to a pint of cider that the man who wrote the circulars describing the balmy climate never lived there. If he did, then he is deliberately deceiving fellow mankind."

The situation in the Third Congressional District of Ohio is becoming interesting. Both parties have made their nominations, and the campaign from now on to May 1, when the election occurs, will be pressed with vigor. The district is made up of three counties lying near to Cincinnati. It is usually Democratic by a large majority, the late Congressman Houk having carried it in 1892 by 4300 plurality, but last November Governor McKinley had 550 plurality in the district. The Democrats in their convention last week indorsed Cleveland and urged the Senate to pass the Wilson bill and so left no doubt as to the platform on which they are running their candidate. But judging from the utterances of the Cincinnati Enquirer, the leading Democratic organ of that neighborhood, they have done this simply to insure his defeat. The election will be the only important one Ohio will hold before November comes.

—Rt. Rev. Bishop N. S. Rulison will be in Bellefonte to administer the confirmation at the Episcopal church on Tuesday next, the 17th instant.

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Nine Milwaukee Firemen Fall into a Fiery Furnace.

Milwaukee, April 9.—At 4.30 this morning flames broke out from the rear of the Davidson theatre and hotel structure valued at $300,000. Immediately on the arrival of the firemen, ladders were run up and the men rushed up on the roof, six stories from the ground. In doing so, Allie Reese, one of the men, slipped and fell to the ground being killed by the fall. All the men from engine house No. 4 were directed to the rear portion of the roof right over the stage, where the fire was the worst. These firemen and others took their stations and began work when, without warning, the roof under them gave way, precipitating nine of the men eighty feet below into the fire on the large stage of the theatre. All of them were either killed by the fall or burned or suffocated to death. Following are the names of the unfortunate men: George Jansen, Assistant Chief August Jansen, Archie Campbell, Thomas Morgan, Frank McGurk, James Freeman, O'Neil, Crowley, Captain Tineham.

The following firemen vent down with the roof and were rescued. They were taken to the hospital. Lieutenant Curran, probably fatally injured; Fred. Marsh, Fred. Schroeder and John Yoe, badly burned. The large building was used as a theatre on the ground floor and the rear, while a portion above the ground floor was utilized by Hotel Davidson. The hotel portion was well filled with guests, but they all were warned in time and made their escape without injury, though a panic prevailed, many of them escaping in hastily made toilets or scarcely any at all to the Schilitz hotel, nearly opposite. The Lilliputian company was filling an engagement in a "Trip to Mars," and the loss to the company on scenery and costumes will reach about $50,000. The loss of the Davidson on the theatre and hotel will aggregate about $200,000.

IT RAINED SALT.

From the Pocatello Tribune.

Last Friday was a balmy spring day. Late in the afternoon a drizzling rain blew up, carried on a wind directly from the south. It was of peculiar whiteness, and, after it had passed, every one who had happened to have been out in it, and who wore a dark suit of clothes or a dark hat, noticed that clothes and hat were covered with thousands of tiny white specks. Later it was noticed that every window in town looking to the south was also covered with white spots.

"It has been raining mud," said every one who noticed the phenomenon at first, but later some of the curious tried testing the spots. They had a distinctly salty flavor, and an analysis made later by druggists proved that they were salt.

The question now is, where did the salt come from? There can only be one answer—from the Great Salt Lake, nearly three hundred miles south in Utah. It must have been a warm day over the Great Dead Sea when a strong south wind swept over it, catching up the salty vapor and sweeping it north to Idaho, and finally bespattering the clothes and windows of the good people of Pocatello with the salty spray.

The English Bering Sea act provides, according to the telegraphed abstract, that vessels sailing before the passage of the act should not be liable to forfeiture. If this still leaves the vessels subject to fines, the act would check predatory sealing, though the delay in its passage has in itself been a grievous breach of faith by England. If, as suggested in the Senate Saturday, the act relieves the Canadian sealers of all penalties, the act is a disgraceful evasion of the Paris award. Senator Morgan spoke in doubt yesterday of the wording of the act, though it is amazing if it has not been cabled in full to Washington. It is noticeable that it was hotly opposed in the Commons by Mr. Baden-Powell and Mr. Gibson Bowles, who, for several years past have acted as Canadian mouthpieces in Parliament and the English press.

WAS IT A MURDER?

On last Tuesday whilst the workmen engaged in digging the cellar of the old Conrad House deeper they unearthed a man's skull. The under jaw was missing and parts of the skull decayed, the hair being loose from the cranium and as fine as silk and of a light brown color. The ghostly find is supposed to be one of the Flanigan brother's victims, who were noted robbers, who resided here for awhile along in the thirties and at which time two strange travelers were missed and never heard of after. Col. Dunham cleaned the skull and will give it a christian burial.

WILL MEET IN HUNTINGDON.

The Altoona district Young Men's Christian association will hold their annual conference at Huntingdon, Pa., April 28-29. Each association in the district is invited to send delegates to this conference. A cordial invitation is also extended to persons living at points where there are no associations, and who are interested in association work to attend this conference. Entertainment will be provided for all who attend. The Altoona district includes the following counties: Centre, Huntingdon, Fulton, Bedford, Blair and Clearfield.

A NEW RAILROAD.

McConnellsburg, Pa., April 10.—Hon. D. Watson Rowe and Alexander Stewart, Esq., attorneys for Colonel Thomas B. Kennedy, president of the Cumberland Valley railroad, appeared today in court in special session and presented a petition from him as president of the Southern Pennsylvania Railway and Mining company, a short line running from Marion to the Cumberland Valley railroad to Richmond Furnace, to condemn that portion of the old South Penn roadbed lying between Tuscarora tunnel, in Franklin county, and Mt. Dallas, in Bedford county. The corporation proposes to construct a railroad between the two points, using the road bed of the South Penn from Tuscarora tunnel. The same corporation has surveyed and located a branch to intersect the main line of the Cumberland Valley at or near Newville. The extension, a distance of fifty one miles, will be used by the Pennsylvania railroad as an outlet for the West Virginia coal fields, without hauling their freight over the Broad Top railroad. The court appointed seven viewers who will commence their duties May 7 to value and assess the damages to the South Penn for the taking and the appropriation of the roadbed and improvements.

GEN. FISHER'S LECTURE.

Gen. Benjamin F. Fisher, of Valley Forge, will deliver a very interesting lecture on "Reminiscences of War Life in, and escape from, Libby Prison," in the college chapel at State College, on Saturday evening, April 14th, for the benefit of the Foot Ball Department of the Pennsylvania State College.

There will be a reception at the new hotel immediately after the lecture in order that the General may have an opportunity to meet many of his old friends and that the young people, who desire to do so, may dance.

A special train will leave Bellefonte for the College at 7. p. m., returning immediately after the reception. Every one who can possibly do so should turn out and give the General a hearty welcome, besides helping the Foot Ball department along. Tickets for the lecture are on sale at Parrish's drug store,

ARBOR DAY OBSERVANCE POSTPONED.

The committee having in charge the arrangements for the observance of Arbor Day, which was to have taken place on Friday, the 13th, owing to the present spell of inclement weather, have postponed the time from the first to the second day named in the Governor's proclamation, which will be on Friday, the 27th. This will give two weeks more time in which to prepare and also give a probability of better weather than we are now having. Therefore business men who had intended to devote a half day to tree planting, etc., can wait until Friday, the 27th, to do it. Then let everybody lend a hand and do what they can to beautify the town, their own properties, etc.

LUTHERAN CHURCH SOCIAL.

To-morrow (Thursday) evening is the regular time for the church social which meets at the residence or ex-Sheriff William A. Ishler, on Linn street, near the church, at which the usual refreshments will be served in great quantity and superior quality. A string band will also be on hand to discourse music for the entertainment of those attending. There will also be an auction sale of valuable articles put up in packages, together with the usual amusements suitable to the occasion. Everybody is cordially invited. Come and bring your friends with you.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Following is the list of marriage license granted by the register of Centre county during the past week:

Amos A. Gailard, of Sandy Ridge, and Mattie McMonigal of Taylor township.

William Baird, of Spring township, and Katie Smith, of Howard.

William C. Walters and Emma Strong, both of Spring Mills.

Henry D. Woodel, of Taylor township and Sallie Hamer, of Worth twp.

HOW TO HELP THE TOWN.

Don't fail to sound its praises wherever you are.

Don't sneer at the efforts of your fellow citizens to build up the town, but lend a hand yourself.

Don't forget that in building up the town hearty co-operation, united endeavor and a spirit of get there are what win the day. There is no pull like a long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether.

FIVE CITIZENS ARRESTED.

They Participated in the Pursuit of South Carolina Constables.

FLORENCE, S. C., April 4.—Five citizens of this place, who admitted taking the guns from the armory and participating in the pursuit by the constables on Friday last, were arrested today by the officer in command of the militia here. The men were arrested under the authority of the proclamation of the governor proclaiming martial law. They were placed on parole not to leave the city limits and required to report to Major Wardlaw every morning. The citizens held a consultation with lawyers, but no steps have yet been taken to oppose the action of the officers. It is possible, however, that habeas corpus proceedings may be begun before Chief Justice McIver.

EVERYTHING IS QUIET.

Columbia, S. C., April 4.—Everything is quiet here to-day. Governor Tillman walked down the street this morning, went into a barber shop and was shaved. While on the street he was not jeered or otherwise insulted. Both factions regard this as an indication that conditions are more pacific than they have been at any previous time since the excitement began. Notwithstanding these symptoms, it is easy to see that the people are still excited and the animosities which have been engendered are intense. Mayor Fischer, of Columbia, says he shall pay no attention to the governor's proclamation of yesterday taking control of the police, under the advice of the city attorney.

SHOT AND KILLED A NEGRO COOK.

Darlington, S. C., April 4.—At the Cleveland House here, to-day, Dr. Spain shot and killed a negro cook, who had reported him as being one of those who were concerned in the dispensary transaction which caused the recent riot. Spain was at once arrested and taken to police headquarters. Everything is now quiet and there is apparently no danger of further trouble.

FAILED TO PASS.

Washington, April 4.—Very much to the surprise of almost every one the house today disposed of the Bland seigniorage bill, refusing to pass it over the pressdent's veto, the vote being—yeas, 144; nays, 115, not the two-thirds required by the constitution. The bill came up after the house had voted to seat Warren B. English (Democrat) as representative of the Third district of California in place of Samuel G. Hilborn (Republican).

Mr. Bland has been willing to give way with his seigniorage bill to the bill passed by the senate yesterday to enforce and make effective the regulations for the protection of the fur seal recommended by the Paris tribunal of arbitration, but a demand was made by Mr. Payne, of New York, for the regular order. This cleared the way for the Bland bill and the author called up the president's veto message.

He gave notice that he would ask the previous question on the motion to pass the bill over the veto at 5 p. m. Saturday, but in the confusion which prevailed, while the matter of an agreement upon closing debate was being discussed, no attempt was made to speak on the bill or message until after the speaker had put the question of the passage of the bill and the roll call had begun. He then declared it to be too late to enter upon debate, and against the protests of Republicans and Democrats, opposed to the passage of the bill, and amid great excitement he ordered the roll call to proceed to a conclusion. It was completed at 5 o'clock, and, immediately upon the announcement that the bill had failed to pass, the house adjourned until to morrow.

WELL SAID.

The editor of the Big Run Echo is given as the author of these domestic remarks; The way to make public schools a failure is for the parents to be continually finding fault with the teacher. It makes no difference how good a teacher he is nor how well educated, by finding fault and meddling with all he does you can make the school a failure and ruin the reputation of the teacher. When your child comes home with some little story of his teacher not doing right, uphold him in it and denounce the teacher, and say he is not fit to drive chickens to water; tell your neighbor's children that their teacher is a failure and they might as well have a "wooden man" as the teacher they have. Go to stores and before the crowd of loafers hold up the little faults of the teacher, magnifying them about 500 per cent. Seize every opportunity to say a mean word about him. It makes no difference if there is not a word of truth in what they say. Just keep on in this tune and you will succeed admirably and your school will be the worst that it has been for years. No school can be a success without the hearty support of the scholars and the patrons of the school. Just as soon as you get the confidence of the pupils and patrons completely shaken in the teacher, you have done your work. The school will be a failure; the children will not do any good; their whole Winter's schooling will be lost. But what difference does this make, just so you succeed in making the school a failure?

—It is the greatest delusion in the world for a boy to get the idea that his life is of no consequence and that the character of it will not be noticed. A manly, truthful boy will shine like a star in any community. A boy may possess as much noble character as a man. He may so speak and so live the truth that there be no discount on his word. The Christian boys are kings among their fellows, having an immense influence for good, and loved and respected because of the simple fact of living the truth.

"WOMAN'S SUFFER-AGE."

Was what a witty woman called that period of life which all middle-aged pass through, and during which so many seem to think they must suffer-that Nature intended it so. The same lady added: "If you don't believe in 'woman's suffer-age' there is one ballot which will effectually defeat it-Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription." This is true, not only at the period of middle life, but at all ages when women suffer from uterine diseases, painful irregularities, inflamation, ulceration or prolapsus, the "Favorite Prescription" so strengthens the weak or diseased organs and enriches the blood, that years of health and enjoyment are added to life.

WOMAN'S HEROISM.

FEW PEOPLE REALIZE IT.

What Heroic Efforts They make to Appear Cheerful and Happy.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

How many, think you, have any idea of the suffering endured by so large a proportion of the women of America?

Very few men have the slightest conception of the pain endured by so many women, even those of their own households, or the heroic efforts they make to appear cheerful and happy.

Maid of Orleans.

Women ought to be told just where the danger lies, for their whole future may depend upon their knowledge, and how to overcome it.

Lydia E. Pinkham solved the mystery after years of experience and study. She unerringly traced the cause of nearly all of woman's suffering to the womb.

Other years followed and her Vegetable Compound was given to the world.

And now, after years of marvellous success, it is acknowledged the unfailing remedy for all forms of female complaints, ovarian troubles, inflammation and ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb, irregularity, suppressed or painful menstruations, leucorrhœa, bloating, flooding, backache, nervous prostration, kidney trouble, etc., and is found on the shelves of all respectable druggists.

Such cases as this of Mrs. M. F. Fozzy, of Campello, Mass., speak volumes. She says: "I was very sick. I did not ever expect to get up again. Menstruations had stopped suddenly. The pains all through my body were terrible. As a last resort I sent for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and a box of her Liver Pills. I also used a package of her Sanative Wash.

"Relief came at once, and to-day I am a well woman. Menstruations regular, no backache, entirely cured of leucorrhœa and bearing down pains. Nothing equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

THE MINING SITUATION.

Miners at Spangler, Dunlo and Other Places Resume.

The mining situation in the Cambria and Clearfield regions, while none of the best, has been greatly exaggerated by some of the corresponpents of city dailies, and as a consequence the readers of these have been led to believe that the coke region strike was about to spread throughout the Pennsylvania bituminous territory and that only the beginning of the unfortunate and ill-advised labor upheaval had been experienced.

While it is an undeniable fact that the miners throught the entire state are in a condition of unrest, and while it is equally certain that unscrupulous agitators whose harvest is a strike are doing all in their power to bring about a general result of this character, it is also a certainty that the men are in no condition for a contest either short or prolonged, and that the people generally, no matter how mush they may be in favor of the rights of labor, are in no humor to have what trade there now is paralyzed by unseemly interference.

The situation in the Cambria region, so far as it could be learned by careful inquiry yesterday, was a follows:

The miners of Spangler held a meeting Thursday to take action upon the proposed reduction of from 40 to 35 cents a ton. Some of the men favored a strike, but the majority decided that such action should not be taken at this time, and all the men have returned to work.

The miners at Dunlo, who were among the first to strike, have also accepted the reduction and returned to work.

A correspondent writing from Patton states that there is no truth in the report about the Patton miners being on a strike, and adds that there are no signs of a strike at present.

It is understood that some of the men who are on strike at Gallitzin against the reduction from 40 to 35 cents per ton will take similar action with the miners of Spangler, so that most of the miners of Cambria county will doubtless soon accept the operators' terms.

A gentleman of this city who is thoroughly conversant with the operations of the mountain mines stated yesterday that the miners at Hastings, Patton and Spangler were all working as well as they could, being hampered somewhat because cars could not be readily secured for shipments.

The men employed at Scott's mines at Ehrenfeld, who returned to work on Tuesday, did so upon the advice of President Bradley, of the United Mine Workers. He suggested that they should continue at work until the district convention meets at Lilly on the 10th inst. A committee of two of the miners, Phil Conrad and Ted Farmer, submitted their grievances to Superintendent Hartman, who immediately discharged both of them. Thursday morning a notice was posted at the mines calling upon the men to go out at once, as others along the railroad had done. The miners decided to hold a meeting at 9 o'clock, but Superintendent Hartman, told them such as remained away would be discharged and all but fifty returned to work. These fifty have been "relieved."

A telegram received in this city late yesterday afternoon stated that the Houtzdale miners of the Clearfield region all returned to work yesterday noon and by Monday next the miners of the entire region would again be at work.—Altoona Tribune.

THE CONNELLSVILLE OUTBREAK

The Connellsville coke region is going through its usual experience with a strike. To the half civilized Huns a reduction in wages is a declaration of industrial war. With them to strike is to destroy and to shed blood, if a collision is invited by any act of their employers particularly displeasing to them. A strike with them means always the enforced idleness of the works which they abandon, and any attempt to replace them with other men is a signal for a bloody conflict.

The comparative cheapness of this form of labor has caused an unusual collection of the ignorant and untamed peasants of Southeastern Europe to be collected in the Connellsville coke regions. They are a dangerous class. Their strikes have been the most violent and bloody that have taken place in this State. They are invincible to reason, or they would not strike at a time like this, when work of any kind is eagerly coveted by tens of thousands. They know next to nothing of what is going on outside of their own settlement, and a reduction in wages, made necessary by these Democratic times, is to them as inexcusable and unprovoked assault upon their livelihood, which they must resist to the end by every means in their power.

The Sheriff of Fayette County informs Governor Pattison that he is powerless to control the 10,000 strikers now marching to and fro in the coke regions doing what mischief they will. He doubtless speaks the truth. This army of infuriated coke burners, nearly all foreigners, and largely Hungarians, are not the kind of men that can be handled by Deputy Sheriffs or a posse comitatus. They brought over here with them and still retain respect for one thing, and that is armed troops. A regiment of State guards could do more good in Fayette county just now, without firing a gun, than a brigade of Deputy Sheriffs or an army of Pinkerton detectives.

—Not the least trace has as yet been found of the postoffice thieves who committed depredations at Millheim and Nittany Hall, nor is it likely that any trace of them will be discovered. In the meantime, it might be well for some of the other fourth class postmasters throughout the county to keep extra guard over their valuables.

CORRALED IN CAMP.

Fate in the Guise of Police Has overtaken the Adherents of Commander Coxey.

PITTSBURG, April 4.—Fate in the guise of hostile police has overtaken Coxey's cohorts, and to day the men are corraled in the camping ground at Exposition park. Chief Murphy, of the Allegheny police, absolutely refuses to allow a parade to-day, and has further emphatically negatived the proposal of a theatrical manager to have the army visit to-night's performance. In like manner the army has refused admission to the camp to all people, and a state of armed neutrality exists.

The thirty men sent to the workhouse from the Allegheny City police station this morning are not all members of the army. Chief Marshal Browne commends the action by saying that all men who are not contented to remain in camp should be arrested.

The local Populist leaders are very angry at the action by which the army is kept in the park enclosure. Several of them made vigorous protests to Mayor Kennedy this morning, but without any effect.

This afternoon's war between Browne, af the Commonweal army, and Manager Buckenberger, of the Pittsburg base ball club, on whose park the army is encamped, over the admittance of the public to the park, was amicably adjusted, and the army will remain in its present quarters until to-morrow morning. The gates, however, remain closed, against all except those specially specified by Marshal Browne. Thirty-two recruits joined the army this morning. No more, it is expected, will be enrolled until to-morrow morning.

LATEST SWINDLING SCHEME.

The latest swindling scheme is being worked in different sections of the country, and was put in operation in Cambria county. A man well dressed with a business like air, called upon persons in the rural districts and represented himself as a government detective, with the statement that there was much counterfeit coin in circulation and requested them to show what coin they had in their possession. He would then use a chemical, which would turn the coins black, declare it spurious and take it away, informing that another secret service officer would follow him in a day or two and redeem the coin taken away. The victims said nothing about it for some time ont of fear of being arrested for having counterfeit coin in their posession, and by this time the swindler is far away.

—While appraisers were looking up the property of James McKee, of Mifflin township, Cumberland county on Wednesday in an old chest in the garret, was found $3,895.35 tied up in a mouldy paper. The money is supposed to have been put there forty years ago. Eighteen hundred dollars of the money was in gold, $600 in silver and the balance in paper money. All the money was covered with mould.

—High-priced men are least often out of employment.

—Among the applicants for the position of court crier are Messrs John Dunlap and O. Atwood.

—Dr. J. L. Seibert is improving his property on Allegheny street by new steps to the entrance and a railing along the porch.

—Rev. William Wagner has been given a call by the Lutheran cangregation at Centre Hall to become pastor of that church.

—According to Mr. Ed. Wasson, of Buffalo Run, the aggregate depth of snow which fell during the past winter amounted to fifty inches.

—Lock Haven is said to be flooded with counterfeit silver half dollars. They are light in weight and dark in color. Watch for them.

—Reports from the Secretary of Agriculture contain the valued information that the recent cold snap did not hurt the fruit in the least.

—Mr. L. T. Munson is having fancy tops put on the chimneys of his house on Allegheny street. The Messrs. Cowdrick are doing the work.

—if you want to go to the Danville Insane asylum you must do so without passing through the town, as the place is quarantined on account of the small pox.

—The foundation of Mr. Archie Allison's new house on Allegheny street is about completed and the bricklayers will soon begin on the main walls of the structure.

—There has been 429 conversions at a revival held in the Second M. E. church at Huntingdon and the good work is still going on, with 35 penitents at the altar.

—Lock Haven has redueed the salaries of its borough officials while Philipsburg has voted to pay its chief burgess a salary of $100 per year. In Bellefonte there has been no change.

—Thursday and Thursday night were more like a fall day and night than like the 5th of April. Cold, rain, snow, etc., made up the state of weather, with a very little sunshine thrown in.

—The Coleville band will hold a dance and festival in their band room near Collin's furnace this evening. No admission, but ten cents a dance will be charged. Everybody invited.

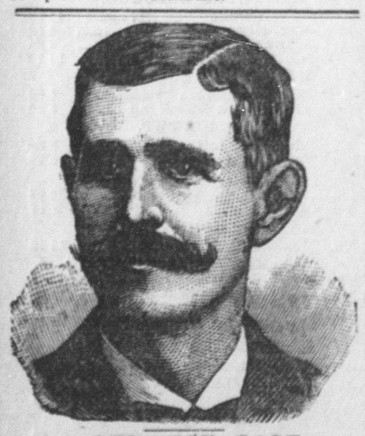
—Courting a girl is like starting a newspaper. It stars out as a weekly, then it becomes tri-weekly, then it merges into a daily. If it has any enterprise it comes out with an extra occasionally.

—And now the query is, "Who will be Postmaster Fortney's assistants in the conducting of the office in this place?" Of course, there are lots of persons who will be willing to serve, but just who Fortney will be willing to have serve is the sticker.

—It is now 'Squire John M. Keichline, and that official is ready and willing to transact all business and hear all cases that can be brought before him. Being an attorney his decisions will likely be correct and his judgment a terror to evil-doers. Therefore, beware!

—There is scarcely a family in the vicinity of Tusseyville that has not had the measles during the past couple months. The disease is still prevalent and, in some families, all the members are down. This disease is also prevalent at Millheim and there is at least one case in Bellefonte.

—Mr. C. F. Montgomery is having the lawn surrounding his residence on East Linn street leveled and sodded. When completed and the grass begins to grow Mr. Montgomery will have one of the handsomest lawns in Bellefonte, especially if a few artistic flower beds are added to complete the adornment.



A STRANGE CASE.

How an Enemy was Foiled.

The following graphic statement will be read with intense interest: "I cannot describe the numb, creepy sensation that existed in my arms, hands and legs. I had to rub and beat those parts until they were sore, to overcome in a measure the dead feeling that had taken possession of them. In addition, I had a strange weakness in my back and around my waist, together with an indescribable 'gone' feeling in my stomach. Physicians said it was creeping paralysis, from which, according to their universal conclusion, there is no relief. Once it fastens upon a person, they say, it continues its insidious progress until it reaches a vital point and the sufferer dies. Such was my prospect. I had been doctoring a year and a half steadily, but with no particular benefit, when I saw an advertisement of Dr Miles' Restorative Nervine, procured a bottle and began using it. Marvelous as it may seem, but a few days had passed before every bit of that creepy feeling had left me, and there has not been even the slightest indication of its return. I now feel as well as I ever did, and have gained ten pounds in weight, though I had run down from 170 to 137. Four others have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine on my recomendation, and it has been as satisfactory in their cases as in mine."—James Kane, La Rue, O.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs.

WILL GO AHEAD.

The Altoona and Clearfield Railroad will Build Overhead Bridges.

The Philipsburg Daily Journal of Tuesday says: "The action of the supreme court in reversing the decision of Judge Krebs and thus preventing the Altoona and Philipsburg railroad from crossing the Tyrone and Clearfield railroad from grade, while putting the former company to great disadvantage and expense, has not by any means "knocked out" the new road nor thrown the officers into a state of despondency. The president of the Altoona and Philipsburg road, Mr. Samuel P. Langdon, of Philadelphia, in company with one of the vice presidents, Mr. W. L. Shellenberger, and the general superintendent, Mr. W. T. Forsythe, of Altoona, arrived in Philipsburg this morning in a very happy state of mind considering the adverse decision they had to meet in the crossing case.

"The visit of these gentlemen to our city is significant, meaning that the work of pushing the Altoona and Philipsburg road to completion will not be retarded because of the decision of the supreme court. Finding that overhead crossings are now a necessity, work in this connection will be commenced at once. In an interview with Mr. Langdon we were informed by him that no time would be lost in building the overhead crossings, and in getting the road into successful operation. The change in the crossings from grade to overhead will be a big job, but it is thought the work will be completed by June 1 as far as Houtdale at least. The Mapleton crossing will be built first, so that the road between Philipsburg and Osceola can be put in operation as soon as possible.

"The officers in question, in connection with Mr. G. M. Case, assistant passenger agent of the Beech Creek road, J. R. Van Daniker, ticket agent of the same road, the editor of the Daily Journal, and others, made a trip this afternoon over the new road as far as Mapleton crossing, where a careful survey of the situation was made. The trip was made in the company's new passenger cars, drawn by engine No, 1 and was a very enjoyable one to us."

DEATH AT POTTERS MILLS.

Potter township has lost one of its oldest and best known citizens, in the death of John Shires, which occurred at his home at Potter's Mills, early on Monday morning, 2nd, aged 82 years, 8 months and 20 days. Mr. Shires had been ill for some time. He was a respected citizen and led a Christian life.

Mr. Shires had been in failing health for some months, and owing to advanced age was unable to withstand the ravages of the disease.

He was a widower his wife having died several years ago. It was but a few months ago that a daughter, Mrs. Joseph Shirk, died at his home.

He was the father of several children, they are, Michael Shires, of Spring Mills; Mrs. Charley Bollinger, of Altoona; James of Johnstown; Peter, at Sunbury, and Emory Shires, living at home with his father.

The funeral which took place on Wednesday morning from his late residence, was largely attended. Rev. Illingsworth, of the Methodist church, of which deceased was a member, officiated at the services. Interment was made in the cemetery at Sprucetown.

20,000 YOUNG TROUT.

On Tuesday morning the Centre Hall Fishing Club received 20,000 young trout from the hatchery at Corry, Pa. The little speckled beauties were about 1½ inches in length, and the thickness of a small straw. They were in healthy condition, and at once taken to their new homes. John Honner was given 2000 to put in the Greensvalley stream; 2000 were sent to the Loop stream; 2000 to Henry Potter's run, and the rest were given in charge of Doc. Riter to be cradled in different rivulets along the head of Penn's cr. We expect to see them later.

—A brilliant society event occurred at Centre Hall Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the marriage of Mr. Charles H. Meyer, the present postmaster of that borough, and Miss Mary A. Boal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Boal. The ceremony was witnessed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. A bounteous wedding supper was served after the ceremony. The presents were both numerous and valuable. The happy couple drove to Bellefonte and spent the night at the Brockherhoff House, departing next morning on the early train for a brief honeymoon trip to eastern cities.

—Mexican papers devote a large space to interviews with Pres. Atherton, of the Pennsylvania State College, who is now traveling in that country. His discussions with Hon. Joaquin Baranda, Secretary of Justice and Public Instruction, upon the relative condition of education in the two republics seem to have attracted a wide spread interest. Dr. Atherton will also study the educational systems of the western part of the United States before returning home.

HELD FOR TRIAL.

'Squire J. M. Keichline had his first case on Thursday evening. It was the hearing of Clark and Stewart, the two men brought to Bellefonte from Lock Haven Thursday morning, having been arrested for mis-appropriating money that did not belong to them. At the hearing very little evidence was brought out against the men, but the Squire held each in $500 bail for appearance at the April term of court.

BELLEFONTE'S CENTENNIAL.

As has been spoken of several times next year, or in 1895, Bellefonte will celebrate its centennial—the 100dth anniversary of its foundation. But, although it has been mentioned, there has not even been a suggestion as to the proper way to celebrate the same. One thing is certain, however, that every effort should be made to get Bellefonte in as good shape as possible in every way. Our streets from centre to circumference should be put in the best of condition; our buildings and residences made to look as beautiful as possible, all our industries put in operation and as many more as can be induced to locate here. We should have a new lockup; the public grounds fixed up and the court house repaired, and everything should be put in such condition that if one of the old residents of 1795 should happen along about that time he would be so surprised and delighted he would not even know himself. But to do all this it will be necessary to get down to business, and that at once. One year is a long time but it is short enough in which to make preparation for such an important event. Therefore, why not get down to work now and at once. Commence to make things boom and give us a celebration next year that will make the outside world think Bellefonte is good for other things than raising governors, statesmen, etc.

FOR FISHERMEN.

The following circular, defining "protected or game fish," has been issued by Pennsylvania fish protective association: Fishing with nets or set lines is positively prohibited by the laws of the state. Penalty, $50 for first offense, $100 for second offense. The catching of black bass and wall-eyed pike under six inches, and trout and rock bass under five inches is prohibited. Penalty, $10 for each fish. Trout fishing is allowed only between April 15 and July 15. Penalty, $10 for each trout taken out of season, Black bass fishing between May 30 and Jan. 1. Penalty, $10 for each fish taken out of season. Rock bass, same close season as black bass. Wall-eyed pike, perch and Susquehanna salmon, same close season as black bass. Pickerel, pike, grass pike, muscallongue must not be speared. It shall not be lawful for any person or persons to spear any pickerel, pike or muscallonger. Penalty, $10 for each and every offense.

CURIOSITIES OF THE CALENDAR.

The calendar offers certain curiosities which are little known. The following are a few of them: No century can commence on a Wednesday, Friday or Saturday. The month of October always commences on the same day of the week as the month of January; February, March and November commence on the same day of the week, whereas May, June and August commence on different days. These rules do not apply to leap years. The ordinary year always finishes on the same day of the week when it commenced. The years repeat themselves—that is to say, they have the same calendar every twenty-eight years.

PRESENTS TO THE POPE.

Pope Leo XIII has received lately a curious and valuable gift from the Government of the United States of Columbia. It consists of three objects in gold, the intrinsic and material value of scientific value. These objects are three plaques of massive and fine gold, which must have served as a breast covering for some Indian cacique. They have almost the form and dimensions of the ornaments carried upon the breasts of the Hebrew pontiffs and the Assyrian hight priests. They were discovered in a "guaca" or Indian cemetery in the village of Macheta about fifty miles from Bogota.

TO DEFRAUD THE FARMERS.

The latest scheme to defraud the farmers is gotten up and worked in the following manner: Agents go around under pretense of getting data for a county map. If a man does not subscribe for the map they ask him to sign a certificate which innocently purports to show that those who are mapping out the county have been on his farm and have the dimensions, etc., of it. This certificate turns out to be an order for the map at about ten times its worth. Trouble ensues if the map is not taken and the price paid, in which the "subscriber" gets the worst of it.

MOVED TO THIS CITY.

J. A. Fiedler, of Bellefonte, moved to Williamsport to-day, locating on the Mrs. Sigafoot property, corner of Centre and Fourth street. Although his successor has been appointed as postmaster at Bellefonte, he officiates there until the new officer, D. F. Fortney, Esq., has his bonds filed, which will be in a few days. Fiedler expects to engage in the newspaper business in Williamsport, where he formerly lived, was city editor on THE SUN and clerk to select council, both of which positions he resigned when he moved to Bellefonte, nearly nine years ago.—Williamsport Sun.

—In order to have proper facilities demanded by their growing business an additional room 25x55 feet is to be built to the Standard Scale Works plant. Carpenter Henry Lowery has the contract and this is sufficient to guarantee that the work will be properly done. We are truly glad of this evidence of prosperity in one of Bellefonte's industries.

GOOD WORK DONE.

The Silent Influences of the Holy Spirit Effects Mighty Results.

"The wind bloweth where it listeth. You hear the sound thereof, but cannot tell whence it cometh or whither it goeth. So are they who are born of the spirit." The above quotation from Holy Writ seems to characterize the work done during the past few weeks under auspices of the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A.

Perhaps many persons of this place know that since the advent of the present efficient general secretary, Mr. Cota, there has been considerable activity in Association matters. But the real object of the work, the spiritual benefit of the young men, seemed slow of attainment. By a happy thought, however, it was decided to invite here Messrs. James McConkey, of Wrightsville, Pa., and Edward Miller, of Tyrone. These gentlemen came about four weeks ago. Mr. Miller remained during Sunday and all who heard him were won by his happy, hearty style. Mr. McConkey remained two weeks, and perhaps the visit of no single individual to Bellefonte has been fruitful in such beneficent results. The grace and benediction of his presence are still felt, and will live forever in the happy hearts and regenerated lives of the twenty-one young men who were converted through the instrumentality of his efforts. It was accomplished so quietly and with so little parade, that this statement is really the first public notice of it.

He held three meetings daily. There was a brief noon-day prayer meeting, daily, and even there the spirit's power was felt. Each afternoon there was a Bible reading, Mr. McConkey being very happy in his exposition of Scriptural truths. His words gave new and richer meaning to these vital truths. On Sundays he added to his other labors by preaching in the churches and speaking at the gospel temperance meeting. He spoke as the bearer of the message of life to dying men, and his words were blessed. As we have stated, twenty-one young men were converted. Of these seven have already united themselves with the church and all will do so as opportunity is offered. Lives which were in constant danger are safe, because they are trusting in a power that is might to keep and to save. The moral tone of the entire community has been elevated; families have been made happy; eternity alone can reveal all the good that has been done.

The bodies of young men are being built up by the gymnasium, during the winter their minds were trained in such studies as they desired to pursue, their souls have been eternally saved, and they are now an active and true Christian force in the world. The Association is doing good work. Remember that it must be supported by your gifts. If you can afford to remember it in a financial way, do so.

THAT MONUMENT.

The board of public building and ground, in Harrisburg Wednesday of last week selected a design for the monument at Canoe Place, for which an appropriation of $1,500 was made by the last legislature. It will be built in the bed of the Susquehanna, at the intersection of Indiana, Clearfield and Cambria counties. The shaft will be of granite, thirty feet high. Yesterday the commissioners of three counties met at Cherrytree with the county surveyors and located a spot for the monument. It is intended to mark the place where stood an old cherrytree, which marked the distance a canoe could be pushed up the river by the Indians during a deal with William Penn. From there a direct line was run to a point on the Allegheny river or near Kittanning, and this boundary was known for many years as the "Purchase line." The cherry tree in question also gave rise to the name of the town of Cherrytree, near the proposed site of the monument.

WHAT PRESBYTERY DID.

The Sessions of the Body Are Being Held at Clearfield.

Clearfield, Pa., April 10.—The presbytery of Huntingdon convened in the Presbyterian church at 7 o'clock last evening.

The opening sermon was preached by Rev. John W. Bain from Isaiah xi : 9 and Revelation xx : 4. "The earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord as the waters cover the sea." "And I saw thrones and they sat upon them and judgment was given unto them, and I saw the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus and for the word of God, and which had not worshiped the beast, neither his image, neither received his mark upon their foreheads, nor in their hands, and they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years." The sermon showed great clearness of thought and was delivered with force and heard with much interest.

After the sermon the Presbytery was consecrated with prayer and proceeded to effect an organization.

Rev. J. F. Diener and Rev. J. C. Kelly were nominated for moderator, Mr. Kelly having declined and insisted that his declination be accepted on the ground that he had been moderator of the Presbytery some years since, he was permitted to with draw and Mr. Diener was elected by acclammation. Rev. W. H. Schuyler, Ph. D. of Everett, was elected recording clerk and Prof. C. J. Potts reading clerk. Rev. R. A. McKinley, D. D., the pastor of the church, read the report of the committee of arrangements suggesting that the sessions of the Presbytery be held from 9 a. m. to 12 and from 2 p. m. to 5, and that one-half an hour be devoted to Christian Endeavor work ; that the missionary sermon be preached this evening and that a popular temperance meeting be held on Wednesday evening. The reading of credentials and examination of those who seek admission to the presbytery was fixed as the first order for this morning.

The examinations of students of theological seminaries was fixed as the first order for this afternoon. The session closed with prayer by Rev. Mr. Finney.

This morning's session of the presbytery was opened with devotional exercises which continued from 9 to 9 30. The exercises were lead by Rev. D. K. Freeman, D. D., who dwelt upon the need of the Holy Spirit for guidance in the transaction of the business which shall come before the presbytery.

The credentials of Rev. Robert George Williams, from the presbytery of Erie; Rev. W. E. Stewart, from the presbytery of Steubenville ; Rev. D. E. Craighead, from the presbytery of Redstone ; Rev. W. H. Wolverton, from presbytery of New Brunswick and Rev. J. E Giffen, from the Presbytery of Redstone, were read and deemed satisfactory, and after the usual examination these names were placed upon the roll of the presbytery. Rev. J. Vernon Bell, of the presbytery of Clarion, was invited to sit as a corresponding member. The minutes of previous meetings were read by the clerk and approved. The presbytery decided that hereafter the stated clerk read his own minutes. The Rev. L. M. Brady, of the Central Pennsylvania Methodist Episcopal conference, was introduced to the presbytery and invited to sit as a corresponding member. To expedite matters the suggestion was made and tacitly sanctioned that the committee on Greek and Hebrew proceed to examine students upon these languages.

The second order for this afternoon is the election of commissioners to the general assembly. A testimonial was granted to Mr. David T. Neely, who is attending the Princeton seminary, so that he might engage in Sunday school work. Mr. Wm. Jack, of the Houtzdale church, applied for permission was granted, with the understanding that the supply for license at June meeting. Rev. J. H. Mathers, D. D., submitted his report as treasurer—the substance of which was, that more than $1,500 had been contributed to assist feeble churches; and more than $1,600 had been paid out, the latter exceeding the former amount by $102. The report was accepted and rendered to the committee on accounts and finance.

The certificate of Rev. H. Howard Stiles from the presbytery of Allegheny, was read, found in order and after the usual examination he was received into the presbytery.

Rev. R. F. Wilson, from the committee appointed to purchase copies of the form of government reported reasons why none had been purchased. The committee was continued with the understanding that copies be purchased in the near future. The statement of Dr. Mathews that the work of presbyterial sustentation was being embarrassed by the suggestion of some that it ought to be abandoned called forth a strong defense of it in a paper by Rev. D. K. Freeman, D. D.

The examination of Mr. Paul H. Gardner and Mr. Wilson on the subject of theology, ecclesiastical history, sacraments and church government was reported and the examination was approved. Mr. Wilson form the text. "For we know that if one earthly house of this tabernacle be dissolved we have an house eternal in the heavens," delivered a popular sermon. Human beings enjoy the privilege of dwelling under two conditions, the temporal and the eternal. The evidence for latter is fonud in the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

In I John first chapter, the words "Follow Me" was Mr. Gardner's text. The introduction was derived from the context The preacher then proceeded to show the simplicity and definiteness of these two words. He contrasted their simplicity with the intricate system of the Old Testament law.

AND THE NEXT DAY IT SNOWED.

Aged men are busy this morning taxing their memories for a case parallel to this, so far as the weather is concerned, and some few have managed to find one. Snow in April is not an uncommon occurrence in this lattitude, but snow for thirty six hours until the biggest part of three feet has fallen, is an incident not often duplicated and therefore worthy of record. When it began to snow on Tuesday everybody supposed it would soon turn to rain, but it didn't. It kept snowing right along all day although the most of it melted until towards evening. Of course, it was not expected that it would snow much more so that very few people were prepared for the sight that met their eyes on getting out of bed this morning. Fully eighteen inches of snow covered the ground (in some places it measured nineteen) and it was still snowing as fast as ever, and thus it has continued up to this writing, 10 o'clock, so that now there are very near two feet of "the beautiful" on the ground. Taking into consideration what melted on Tuesday it is a safe calculation to say that the depth of snow which has fallen is between 2½ and 3 feet.

The oldest of our residents remember only one time when a snow fall came anyways near equaling this. That was on the 17th of April, 1854, when almost, if not entirely, two feet of snow fell. But that is the only time, in the memory of those who have lived a long time, that there was a snow fall which came anyways near equaling this.

Don't frown on every public improvement simply because it will cost you a dollar or two.

Mr. T. W. Haus,

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen—We have a very high opinion of both Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills at our house and with good reason. I have taken almost every remedy known for rheumatism, and feel justified in saying that Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only one that does me any good. I must admit I have not taken it steadily, but only when the pains of rheumatism came on. Hood's Sarsaparilla has

OPIUM SMUGGLERS CAUGHT.

United States Officers Makes a Very Successful Raid.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 8.—One of the boldest bands of opium smugglers in the country was broken up this morning. The United States authorities and the police of this city, Detroit, Cleveland and Erie have been looking for them for over six months. Almost half a year ago the officials became canvinced that a systematically organized band of opium smugglers were at work, but all their efforts to place them under arrest were fruitless.

A month ago Collector Doyle placed a force of deputies on the case with orders to do nothing else until they located the smugglers, These officers have been working night and day since then. Word reached them yesterday that a heavy consignment of opium was on its way to this city, and to keep a sharp lookout for the smugglers. They believed the stuff would in all probability be sent to the Chinese supply station.

Two of the deputies stationed themselves outside the store and awaited the arrival of the smugglers.

They waited until midnight, when they saw three white men enter the yard on the side of the store and drop several suspicious looking packages down into the cellar.

The deputies swooped down on the smugglers at about 1 o'clock and took them to the station house. There they were identified as Charles Kennedy, alias "Lockport" Kennedy ; Edward Patterson and George Henderson. The men refused to make any statement whatever. All were well dressed and had plenty of money and took their arrest coolly.

The police and deputies went back to the laundry and found over 400 pounds of opium concealed in the depot. All of it was wrapped in newspapers printed at Vancouver, B. C. The opium was estimated to be worth $4,000. The duty on it would be $12 a pound.

The Chinamen who run the place are named Wing, Wong and Lee. They escaped from the depot, but the police expect to catch them before midnight. It is believed that the three prisoners have been in the employ of the Chinamen for more than a year.

ALL THE EVIDENCE IN.

Washington, April 6.—The curtain was rung down on the most interesting scenes of the Pollard Breckinridge case to-day, when the last evidence was submitted to the jury. It was a sort of clearing up day, like the last act in a play when explanations and reconsiderations are in order.

Colonel Breckinridge was the last witness in the trial. Like Miss Pollard, who preceded him, he denied pretty much everything she and her witnesses had said, just as she had most emphatically denied all his leading statements and those put forward on her behalf.

The plaintiff's attorneys took the stand and testified that there was no truth in inference put forward by the defense that one or the other of them, or the plaintiff, had slipped a Christmas card of Miss Pollard's into a book at the Northwood Foundling asylum to strengthen her claim.

Monday the arguments to the jury will begin. Mr. Carlisle will open for the defendant. Major Ben Butterworth will make the closing argument of the defense, and Judge Jere Wilson will close the case with his argument for the plaintiff.

The case may perhaps go to the jury on Wednesday, but probably not until Thursday.

INSUPPRESIBLE MRS. LEASE.

Chicago, April 8.—Mary E. Lease, of Kansas, arrived in Chicago yesterday. In an interview she said :

"I am in Chicago to organize a Masonic order for women. I have decided that the Masonic order has been of such wonderful benefit to men, so wonderfully uplifting and educational, that it is certainly a pity to deprive women of the benefits. I do not propose to organize anything antagonistic to the present Masonic order, but the organization will be made in such a manner that they will co-operate with us and approve of it."

AMONG THE COKERS.

There are Indications That the Trouble Is Not Over Yet.

Uniontown, Pa., April 8.—The mass meeting of cokers near this place to-day was largely attended. The plans for the future were carefully discussed. The strikers say they will prevent the starting of the works to-morrow in the southern end of the region. The Leith and Red Stone works of the Frick company will try to start without the protection of deputy sheriffs. The men at these plants are willing to work, but they are afraid to attempt it without armed protection, and have asked the company to supply them with fire arms so they can protect themselves. This the company refuses to do.

It is thought to-night that the plan of the strikers is to have the women raid the works where deputies are on duty, while the men will cheer them on, and look after the plants not guarded.

It is learned to-night that the men who met here will go south and visit all the plants between Uniontown and Fairchance. Another large body of strikers will mass at Oliver and Visit Lamont, Youngstown, Mount Braddock, Wheeler and other plants where starts are to be made in the morning. At Oliver the strikers threaten to stop the pumps and flood the mine, Lively scenes are now expected. Sheriff Wilhelm is preparing to move large numbers of deputies on short notice. A Scottdale report says preparations are being made to start nearly all of the coke works in that vicinity that closed down on account of the strike.

Mt. Pleasant, Pa., April 8.—While everything is quiet at all the works in this part of the coke regions, it is rumored that a large crowd of Hungarians and Slavs will arrive here from Fayette county tomorrow morning intent on forcing the men working here to quit. Even should they come it is not likely that much will be accomplished. Sheirff McCann and 200 deputies well armed, who can be concentrated at any point between Mount Pleasant and Scottdale, inside of thirty minutes are ready to meet the strikers.

Since it is known that Michael Barrett is now leader of the strikers the operators are not so confident that the trouble is over. Barrett, who is well educated, is possibly the best workman in the region. He served a term in the work house for complicity in the 1891 riot at Morewood.

THEY BURIED THEIR COMRADE.

Smethport, Pa., April 8.—Charles Morey, aged 96, a veteran of the war, died at the residence of Thomas Goodwin, a well to do farmer at Farmer's Valley. Morey had been living with Goodwin for about 30 years, Being a pensioner, at $12 per month, and unable to read and write, Goodwin drew the pension for him and gave the old man a home. Goodwin made a pine box and put the remains in, and, with the assistance of a neighbor, dug a shallow trench and dumped the remains in.

This excited old soldiers and officials. At their demand Goodwin secured a good casket, and yesterday the remains were properly interred by the Grand Army.

EXAGGERATED REPORTS.

Wilkesbarre, April 8.—The reports sent out that there are 30,000 miners on the verge of starvation in this valley are greatly exaggerated. The miners are working very irregularly, however, and many men with large families in the mining towns and villages are not making more than $12 to $18 a month. The coal companies are giving them rent free at present and while the Welsh, Irish and American miners and laboring men are not natural beggars, there may be some suffering, but none of them are starving. They got along by denying themselves all but the necessaries of life. In many or most of the cases where an appeal is made, there is a craving for liquor and wages are thus spent and here only the suffering may be great.

ILLEGAL TROUT FISHING.

Clearfield, April 8.—The case against the three men from DuBois, this county, who dynamited Anderson Creek three weeks or so ago, from which they took many pounds of brook trout and other fish, came up before L. K. McCullough, Esq., yesterday morning. Grant Holden and Thomas Reese failed to put in an appearance, but John Nihill, the fat and jolly landlord, waived a hearing and entered bail for his appearance at May court, he having agreed through his attorney C. H. Barrett, Esq., and F. G. Harris, Esq., attorney for Fish Warden T. E. Clark, to pay a fine of $100, between now and two weeks before court convenes, and to pay the costs, which he did, they amounting to $35.61.

Mr. Barrett said the other defendants would enter bail at DuBois. Many witnesses were present who saw the acts committed, and saw the sportsmen (?) cleaning the fish. Nihill said his fourteen pounds of suckers (?) cost him a little over $10 a pound up to date and the case not altogether settled yet.

ENORMOUS CAVE-IN.

Scranton, Pa., April 8—Residents of Margaret and William streets and Warner avenue, in the northerly portion of this city, were greatly startled during last night by a rumble and a quake of the earth resembling an earthquake, and when they arose from their beds this morning they were startled to discover that there were huge cracks in the surface near their homes. An investigation revealed the fact that about twelve acres of the closely built up part of the town had settled several feet by reason of an enormous cave in, of the abandoned workings of the Leggette Creek mine.

Many doors were crushed together so tightly that it was impossible to open them, and the magnificent new No. 25 school building recently erected at a cost of $40,000 is in imminent danger of destruction. The house of the Good Shepherd, erected at a cost of $90,000, is also in the vicinity of the cave-in and will be affected if the crush becomes more serious.

ROASTED BY BOBBERS.

Sharon, Pa., April 8.—At 1 o'clock yesterday morning masked durglars forced an entrance to the home of Henry Winnell, who resides alone one mile south of this city. After knocking Winnell senseless, the robbers ransacked the house. They then saturated his room and clothing with oil and set fire to it. The victim's legs and body were literally roasted. He is in an extremely precarious condition.

The outrage was not discovered until 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Nellie Morris, his housekeeper, Nellie Hudsheth and Charles Ascham were arrested last evening charged with incendiarism and attempted murder. On Friday evening when leaving the house, Nellie Morris warned Winnell that an attempt would be made on his life during the night. Winnell is 45 years of age.

KILLED AT HUNTINGDON.

Huntingdon, Pa., April 4.—Pacific express, due here at 6.08 a. m. this morning run down and instantly killed John Kensinger, an aged coal-picker. The unfortunate man, upwards of 70, was in very moderate circumstances financially, and with the aid of a small pension and the sale of horseradish and milk eked out an existence for himself and family. It had been his custom for a long time to daily pick up the stray lumps of coal along the railroad in the neighborhood of his home, and while thus engaged met with the fatal accident this morning. A wife and four children survive him.

TWELVE PERSONS KILLED.

Petersburg, Va., April 8.—A fire yesterday in the fireworks factorg of C. N. Romaine & Bro., in Blandford, a suburb of this city, caused a series of explosions which killed 12 persons and wounded six others. The killed are: Charles N. Romaine, senior member of the firm; John B. Bland, Capt. James W. Tosh, James W. Perkins, a bricklayer; James Rowland, a farmer; Robert Rowland, a carpenter; John F. Norris, a tailor; Edward Fraylon, William Parker, Quincy Lindsay, and James Bryant, employes of the factory and Thomas Woodfolk, colored.

A BIG GOLD STRIKE.

Colorado Springs, Colo., April 8.—The greatest gold strike of the year at Cripple Creek is reported in the Caledonia. The vein is eight feet wide. The lowest assay shows $9 to the ton. A half ton assayed at $4 to the ton. Several feet will run half that amount. Quartz strikes three to four inches wide give as high as $1,000 to $1,500. The mine has been opened for two years, but attention was called away from it and its richness was not dreamed of. It was recently passed from the locator's hands to the Barlett Gold Mining company, by whom it will be developed.

Our Minister's Wife.

SOME THINGS WHICH SHE KNOWS AND TELLS.

The position occupied by the minister's wife enables her to hear many things of great interest, and people are always curious to talk with her. As she is sure to relate facts just as they are, it makes her conversation all the more important.

Mrs. Rev. W. B Worthing, of West Berlin, Vt., is a most charming and estimable lady. She has lately been besieged to such an extent regarding a certain incident, that she writes the following letter for the public benefit:

"Last March I had the grippe which left my stomach in such a condition that it would not digest anything, I could not eat even baby food without the greatest distress. My nerves were in a fearfully weak condition, and I could sleep but little. I was also full of rheumatism from head to foot, and ached awfully night and day.

"I was in a terrible state and feared I should never get well. I tried physicians and medicines but got no better. Having heard the most astonishing reports of the good done by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, I determined to try that this time instead of physicians.

MRS. REV. W. B. WORTHING.

"I commenced its use and am happy to say that the results most pleasantly surprised me. I received help from the first dose in the digestion of my food. This I know surely, for I left it off for one meal and plainly noticed the difference.

"After taking three bottles my digestion was even better than before I had the grippe, and my nerves were entirely restored to their normal condition. My rheumatism left me and I had no more pains at all.

"I was entirely cured of all my troubles, and all through the aid of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It is a wonderful medicine, and I advise everyone who is sick or suffering from any cause to take it. It cured me and I am confident it will cure others."

What a remarkable inducement to take this medicine. It is the most certain cure known for weakness, nervousness, indigestion, constipation and all blood and nerve diseases. It is the best thing for kidney and liver complaints. Take it now, in the spring, when you can be cured quickest. Your blood demands a spring medicine, and Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is the best because it is purely vegetable and harmless and always cures.

It is the discovery of our most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th Street, New York City. He charges nothing for consultation, either personally or by letter. If you live too far to call, write him

A DARING FEAT.

A Boy Rides on the Springs of a Car from Harrisburg to Huntingdon.

A boy named Schlantzer, who will be 15 years old next August, arrived in Altoona last night on Chicago and St. Louis express, after performing one of the most daring feats in ride stealing known to railroad men.

The lad's parents live in Denver, Col., but he has been roving around through the east, having run away from home some time ago. The last place he was in that he stayed for any length of time was Philadelphia. He took a sudden notion that he would return home, and "beat" his way from the Quaker city to Reading and from there to Harrisburg.

Last evening, as Chicago and St. Louis express left Harrisburg, he seated himself on the springs of one of the passenger coaches, which protrude beyond the tracks a short distance. As the train rolled rapidly along, young Schlantzer began to get cold, but he still maintained his dangerous position on the springs in the hope that the train would come to a halt. When the train was approaching Huntingdon he was so benumbed by exposure to the cold that he made up his mind to ask for admission to the car. By the aid of the safety chain he was enabled to gain the steps after a time, and he kicked at the vestibule door of the car until he attracted the attention of the people on the inside, when he was admitted almost frozen.

He was brought to this city and his thrilling experience was told to railroad employes about the station, who cared for him the remainder of the night. He will probably continue his journey today.—Altoona Times.

Don't talk a great deal about what should be done and remain on the back seat waiting for some one else to do it.

DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Messrs. Strawbridge & Clothier,

Mail Orders receive careful and prompt attention.

THE OLD AND THE NEW.

Changes take place in the medical profession as in all branches of science. We believe the greatest good will follow that generous offer made by Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th Street, New York, who invites all persons, far and near, suffering from any form of disease, to write him a description of their complaints, and he will send them, free of charge, a complete explanation of their diseases, with advice how to be cured. He gives most careful and explicit attention to all letters and explain each symton so carefully that you cannot fail to understand exactly what ails you.

Dr. Greene is our most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic disease. He is the discoverer of that famous medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, which is doing such a vast amount of good all over the world. He uses nothing in his practice but harmless vegetable remedies, which can in no manner injure you. This great system of giving consultation and advice through letter correspondence, free of charge, is especially important to the poor and those living at a distance from large cities, as such consultation and advice were formerly attended by great expense. The doctor is having wonderful success in treating the sick through letter correspondence, and if you will write him about your disease it will undoubtedly lead to your cure.

MINE CAVE-IN.

Frostburg, Md., April 10.—A cave in occurred at the Bowery furnace mine, by which John Kiers, Jr., was buried under a heavy fall. About sixty men have been at work trying to reach Kiers, but finally abandoned all efforts from the inside and devoted themselves to driving in from the outside through the twenty to twenty five feet of earth and rock above the coal.

At the time of the accident the men were placing pillars under the old coke yard, and Kiers was caught and killed by the crush, and several others were injured. John Wade was knocked down twice, and the second time was pinned down, but his father dragged him loose and saved his life. It is thought Kiers's body will not be reached before to-night or to-morrow. He was 35 years old and leaves a wife and two children.

Don't make your money out of its citizens and spend it somewhere else.

THE STRIKE COLLAPSES.

Huns and Slavs Blame the Irish and Germans For the Trouble.

Connellsville, Pa., April 6.—The sudden collapse of the coke strike is the sole topic of conversation in this region today. There are many theories advanced in explanation. One advanced by the better class of Huns and Slavs is that their people have been led into the strike by the Irish and German elements, who wanted to rid the coke region of them. The Huns and Slavs were brought to this country twelve years ago under contract to break the strike and since then times have been getting harder. The Irish and Germans are said to have incited the Slavish people to riot and bloodshed in order to work up a prejudice against them and either to cause them to be driven out of the country by force or starved out for want of work

It is now certain that none of the strikers will be taken back at any of the works and will have to leave the locality. Many circumstances point to the fact that the strike is the result of a Collusion of the Irish and German elements against the Slavs and Huns. All the leaders of the strike and the president and secretary of the organization are Irish, while none of the Irish employes at the coke works have joined the strike.

Julius Dedatory, one of the prominent leaders, was the first to make the discovery. He is president of a large Slavish political club, editor of a Slavish paper and agent for a building and loan association. In speaking of the situation today he said: "There is no doubt our people have been deceived in this matter. The Irish and Germans are anxious to get the Slavish people out of the coke regions, so that they will have all the work themselves. They have incited them to acts of violence, knowing that this would incense the American citizens and work up such a hatred for our people that they will finally be driven back to Hungary. Our people are thoroughly aroused, and it will be safe for the leaders who drove them and led them into the trap to keep out of their reach. I have advised J. S. McCaleb to leave town, as I really believe he is in danger of assassination. McCaleb has taken no part in the strike, but the Huns and Slavs who lost money in his bank when he assigned last September, are beginning to threaten his life. He cannot pay them and trouble will follow."

The news of the threats on McCaleb has created a sensation here. He is very popular and every one believes him to be thoroughly honest. Is case of a riot he will not be deserted by his friends.

TWO BAD BOYS.

Lancaster, Pa., April 6.—The career of two young ruffians was cut short by the police today. Yesterday L. Leno Diffenderfer, swore out a warrant for the arrest of his son William, aged 15 years, who was charged with having assaulted and beaten his mother in a shameful manner. Two officers went to Diffenderfer's house today to serve the warrant. Mrs. Diffenderfer appeared at one of the upper windows and refused to allow them to enter. The officers were compelled to force the door, and arrested the boy. After the boy had been arrested his mother explained to the policeman that she had refused them admission because her son had placed a revolver to her head and threatened to blow out her brains if she opened the door to them. As she believed him fully capable of carrying out the threat, she had done as he had told her.

When William was searched a revolver, a dirk knife and a blackjack were found upon him. When Albert, the 16 year old brother of William, heard of his arrest he started out with the avowed intention of killing his father. Hearing that the police had discovered his bloodthirsty and unnatural intention, Albert attempted to leave the city by train. He was arrested at the station, however, before he escaped. In a bag that he carried was a full set of burglar's tools and in his pocket was a dirk knife.

STOPPED THE WEDDIMG.

Philadelphia, April 6.—There was a queer turn to a wedding tonight, in which Absalom Thayer and Miss Estella Flagler were principals. The minister had reached that point when he turned to the bride-elect and said interrogatively: "You take this man as your lawful husband," etc.

She answered: "No sir, I do not. You are the first who has asked my opinion on the matter. Mr. Thayer has been courting my mother for more than a year. I thought it was herself he wanted, but it appears that he wanted only her consent that he might marry me, and she concludes to compel me to wed him." The minister then said: "This ends it. I have no power to bind anyone against his or her will." The crowd broke up, cheering for the spirited girl. The parties to the contract are Hungarians, who unusually settle such matters for their children without consulting the children's wishes.

A BILL FAVORABLY REPORTED.

Washington, April 6.—Representative Hall, of Missouri, from the committee on banking and currency in reporting favorably to the house to-day the Cooper bill authorizing the taxation of United States legal tender notes, says: "Congress at the time of the authorization of the notes called greenbacks provided that they should be exempt from local taxation. It was a simple declaration of government policy suggested by the conditions under which these notes were issued. The federal government had recently taxed out of existence the circulation notes of state banks; there was serious objection to the new currency.

Hence it was thought necessary to guard it against the possibility of hostile state legislation. These conditions no longer exist. Specie payment had been resumed and ample provision made for the redemption in gold for all such outstanding notes."

FLAMES MAKE BAD WORK.

Shortly before 12 o'clock Thursday night fire was discovered in the kitchen of Mrs. Anna Hennekamp's residence, at the corner of Morrell Place and Vine street, First ward, Johnstown. The fire was caused by an overheated natural gas stove, and before it was discovered it had gained considerable headway. The only persons who were in the house were Mr. and Mrs. James H. Ramsey. The part of the house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey was vacated on Monday and they moved in on Wednesday. They were sleeping in the rear bed room when they discovered the fire. Their stairway was also in flames, and the only way out of the house was by passing through the front bed room and getting down over the porch. This they did, Mr. Ramsey standing on the roof of the porch and letting his wife drop into the arms of a Mr. Bailey, who was standing on the ground. She was taken to the home of W. J. Kinney, who lives just across the street. Loss, $2,500.

A special to the Johnstown Tribune says: Last night fire broke out in the large store room and dwelling of Mr. H. C. Waudby, at Hastings, and before adequate measures could be taken to control the flames, the building was burned to the ground. The family was away at a festival at the time and none of the contents were saved. The tatal loss is estimated at $20,000; on which there is an insurance of $8,000. The fire spread to the house of John Ryan adjoining, and it was consumed, the furnishings, however, being saved. Mr. Ryan had on his building, which was valued at $2,000, an insurance of $1,000 in the Iron City Insurance company, of Pittsburg. In the early history of Hastings Mr. Waudby had the misfortune to have a building burned in which was stored some $7,000 in money, and gold and silver coin found melted in the ruins making a large bulk. There is no clue as to the origin of the fire on the present occasion.

THE NEWS IN WASHINGTON.

Washington, April 5.—The commissioner of Indian affairs has received the following telegram from Captain A. E. Woodsen, acting Indian agent at El Reno, Oklahoma, regarding the trouble between the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indians and the cattlemen:

"A courier arrived with a report from Upper Wishita stating that on the 1st instant, in an altercation between the Indian chief Hill and W. S. Breeding and Thomas Carter, at the Indian camp on Panther Creek, Chief Hill was shot twice by Breeding and mortally wounded. He then got his gun and shot Breeding twice, killing him, and fired another shot at Carter, breaking his arm. The Indians are all peaceably disposed and were at the time living on their allotments and engaged in farming, but fears are now entertained that this affair will cause them to collect again in bands. Troops under command of Captain Hunter have been dispatched to the scene of the trouble. The whites are greatly excited and newspaper reports of the affair are greatly exaggerated."

Commissioner Browning does not believe the trouble will be continued, as such affairs are of frequent occurrence between the Indians and cattlemen.

ALL IS IN SUSPENSE.

Residents of the Coke Regions Fear the Next Move.

Scottdale, Pa., April 5.—The march of the strikers from Connellsville to Mount Pleasant and their stop here last night proved only a blank cartridge and the "solid north," as the striking leaders are pleased to call it, remains unbroken. That the strike is a failure is not questioned now and it is only a matter of a few days until the shortest and most destructive labor trouble in the history of the coke region will be but a deplorable thing of the past.

The Painter works of the McClure Coke company, which closed down to-day, will be started to-morrow. These works are located on the borders of Fayette county and the strikers who encamped here last night visited the houses of the workmen and remained about the works until morning. The arrest of President Davis here last night was a serious blow and for a time the strikers were demoralized. Alexander Markley was selected as the new leader and the 1,500 idle men who slept around camp fires in the muddy park, took up the march for Mount Pleasant at 10 o'clock.

When they reached Bessemer they were met by Sheriff McCann, of Westmoreland county and 100 deputies and escorted to Mount Pleasant, then back to the county line near the bridge. McCann displayed commendable courage and no doubt the prompt and determined position he took, prevented the destruction of property and life as the Hungarians were in a very ugly mood over the arrest of Davis and they made open threats of violence when they left this place. They reached here on their way home about 5 o'clock and the leaders showed evident signs of disappointment and discouragement. One of them said that they had met with but little success and that they would go to their homes and remain there as they were satisfied that it was an utter impossibility to make the strike general. All along the line the Frick employes remained at work and boldly declared that they would not come out as they were receiving more wages and better treatment than the miners and drawers at the other works.

To night everything is quiet along the line but it may be a calm before a storm. The works are all heavily guarded and if the meetings were adjourned to throw the officers off, as many believe, and if they visit the works in this neighborhood in squads, there will be bloodshed.

A report reached here to-night that 400 Hungarians were marching from Alverton to Moorehead and Alice mines. Fifty special officers have left here to assist in protecting the works.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials. Address. F. J. A GIRL'S OPINION OF BOYS.

A little girl wrote the following composition: "Boys are men that have not got as big as their papas, and girls are young women that will be young ladies by and by. Man was made before woman. When God looked at Adam, He said to Himself: 'Well, I guess I can do better if I try again,' and then he made Eve. God liked Eve so much better than Adam that there have been more women than men ever since. Boys are a trouble. They are wearing on everything but soap. If I had my way, half the boys in the world would be little girls, and the rest would be dolls. My papa is so nice that I guess he must have been a little girl when he was a little boy."—Arthur's Home Magazine.

JUDGE SIMPSON

Of the Superior Court writes: From mental exhaustion, my nervous system became shattered, and I was utterly unable to sleep nights. Sulphur Bitters cured me, and my sleep is now sound, sweet, and refreshing.

A BERKS COUNTY SALE.

At a Berks county public sale held last week 4,000 people were in attendance. As is customary a free dinner is served to all who attend. The gentleman who conducted the sale had prepared for the crowd, however, and all present were entertained. Here is what it took to do the baking to supply the hungry multitude: Two barrels of sugar, the flour from 30 bushels of wheat, several cans of lard, etc., which were made into hundreds of loaves of bread, 1,200 pies, doughnuts by the basketful, and everything else in the eating line that can be produced at a rural bakery.

Fruit culture is more profitable to the farmer now than other crops. Brown Bros. Co the most extensive Nursery house in the U. S. have a vacancy in this section. Write them at Rochester, N. Y., for their terms. 3-m —It is said that Joseph W. Rightnour came down town Wednesday morning wearing a cuff for a collar and in a state of excitement such as is seldom witnessed. To all inquirers he gave but one answer, namely, "Its a girl, and weighs ten pounds." This is number two in Joe's household and we extend our hand in congratulation.

THE COMPLEXION OF A CHINESE.

Is not yellower than that of an unfortunate individual whose liver complaint has assumed the chronic form. The eyeballs of the sufferer assume a saffron hue, there is dull pain in the region of the organ affected, the tongue is coated, breath sour, sick headaches usually but not always occur, and there is sometimes dizziness on arising from a sitting posture. Constipation and dyspepsia are also attendants of this very common ailment, always in its aggravated form, liable to breed abscesses of the liver, which are very dangerous. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters wholly eradicates it, as well as the troubles complicated with it and which it originates. In chills and fever, a complaint which always yields to the Bitters, the liver is seriously involved. This fine alternative tonic removes costiveness and indigestion, rheumatic, nervous and kidney trouble and debility.

TALK ABOUT WEATHER.

There is a man in New York who is an expert weather sampler, and just as the tea expert tastes his brand to appraise them, so this man tastes the weather. He will at any time of the day, or at any place, so long as it is in the open air, taste the atmosphere and tell you what the temperature is. He never gets more than two degrees away and seldom more than one. The other day, says the Tribune, a friend played a joke on him by using a thermometer which was not in working order. The sampler, after tasting the weather, said that it was thirty-one degress above zero. The thermometer said it was thirty-seven, but the expert would not be convinced that he could be wrong. He insisted that they walk along until they find another thermometer. They found it and it registered thirty one degrees.

"When the leaves turn early," says a Michigan man, "we have a hard winter. When they turn late we have an open winter. One would suppose that the time at which winter set in would have everything to do with the turning of the leaves, and it is known that some open winters set in early and some cold ones set in late. But I have noticed that the time of cold weather beginning does not mark the turning of the leaves. The present winter set in early in Michigan. There was unusually cold weather in October, but the leaves did not turn until a month later than the average time. All lumbermen arranged for an open winter on that account, and they have not been mistaken. In fact, I have never known the sign to fail."

The SOCIAL ECONOMIST for April appears wrapped in a new mantle, of the praises of its contemporaries, which becomes it as superbly as the costume of Beau Brummel when about to ride in the park with "Wales," The ECONOMIST'S course is upward, or all these good and earnest things would not be said of it. Its April number discusses in a strong editorial article the "Economy of High Wages" which it shows to be derived from production by machine power instead of by hand labor. It is not the product of an increased efficiency in hand labor itself due to getting higher pay as Schoenhof and Atkinson pretend. It then proceeds, in an article on "Popular Mistakes About Taxation," to show that all the taxes usually regarded as "direct" are paid out of profits. Its review of Gladstone is pointed and peppery, and its discussion of proportional representation is adverse to that nostrum as a panacea. "Economic Theory Concerning Value" is a contributed article by Prof. Denslow, which argues that prices are an equation between exchanging products, in which the productive power of consumers becomes the measure of the effective demand for the products they buy, and hence of their price. Dr Janes in "Politics and Saloons" opposes, the license system. The Crucible Drawer and Reviews of Economic Works repay careful perusal. Cossa and Ely "get six months." Flint fares better.

A VERY SLUGGISH MARKET.

Some of our people entertained the hope that with the spring floods would come money to the people in return for lumber rafted and run to market. In this, so far, there has been great disappointment. The market is very dull, and while there seems to be a big run of timber and logs, much has been sold at a reduced price. There seems to be an unusual big run of logs this spring. J. M. Troxell & Co. have 20,000,000, which they are driving out of Kersey run, Lick run, Deer run, Saw Mill run and Cush creek. Their drive out of Lick run alone will reach 10,000,000, and nearly 9,000,000 of these are white pine logs of a superior quality. Burge and Weaver have 3,000,000 on this run, and the whole amount will be in the waters of the Susquehanna river by to-day. They have been having one splash a day on the run for the past two weeks. There is not a big run of square timber, and apart from the logs the run is comparatively light. The lumber market is not going to produce a boom this year.—Rafteman's Journal,

A STARTLING FACT.

Sixteen Per Cent. of Life Insurance Applicants Rejected on Account of Diseased Kidneys.

Dr. Lambert the general medical director of the Equitable Life Insurance Company, New York, said:

"We reject sixteen per cent. of the applications made to us for insurance, and I have saved the entire expense of this medical department, by the rejection alone of applicants who had diseased kidneys and who died within two years after I rejected them.

This appaling statement should have the attention of our citizens. There is no reason to-day, why people should allow kidney disease to get such a hold on them.

Nature sends her warning in the slight pain in the back, poor circulation of the blood, sediment in the urine. When any of these symptoms appear, Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy should be taken in small doses at once, and thus drive the poison out of the blood and restore the kidneys to healthy action. To our knowledge this is the only medicine that surely cures this almost universal complaint.

We note the recovery of Mr. Oscar Lambert, of Jerico, Mo., whose case has been talked of in the papers the world over.

Quoting from his letter to the Press Mr. Lambert says:

"I neglected the first symptoms until I found myself in bed with a complicated disease of the kidneys. No mortal ever suffered more and lived. My physicians failed to help me. I then used Dr David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. It relieved my kidneys almost immediately, and in a few weeks I was clear of all pain and entirely cured.

Mrs. A. J. F. Manchester, of Providence R. I., writes:

"I began using D. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy for kidney disease, when Doctors failed to relieve me. It drove a bad humor out of my blood, and cured my kidney trouble."

Favorite Remedy has had more free advertising in the columns of the daily papers, than anything we know of, from the fact that it does as is promised-Cures disease.

BETHLEHEM'S MESSAGE.

To the Erie Bureau of Charities:

The room was chilly, and cheerless and bare,
And the face on the pillow was pallid with care;
And streakings of silver in auburn-brown hair
Told poverty's tale of sorrow.

The face was a mother's and sleeping, she sighed,
For though earnestly striving, all vainly she tried
To gather some cheer for the bright Christmas-tide
That was winging its way to the morrow.

And e'en as unconsciously weeping she slept,
A ray of God's sunshine on silent wing crept—
Stooped to kiss from the eyelids the tear-drops half wept—
And left a glad dream gift, all ringing.

With the anthem that burst on Judea's night plain,
That the ages have chanted again and again,
Till the isles of the sea, catching up the refrain,
With the ends of the earth are singing.

The sleeper awakened, and lo! at her door
Of Christmas-time bounty plentiful store,
And Bethlehem's Message it lovingly bore
Oh! the wonderful, wonderful story!

Kneeling low by the side of her children asleep,
A thank-offering burst from love's fathomless deep;
"The hands stretched to help me, oh Lord! do thou keep,
'And to God in the highest be glory.'"

LAST OF THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD'S POPULAR EXCURSIONS TO THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

The series of spring excursions to the National Capital, which have been so succesfully conducted by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, will close with the final trip on April 19th. These excursions have proven exceedingly popular, both on account of the low rate and the many attractions which Washington has to offer the visitor during the spring. Always a delightful city, Washington is particularly attractive when the trees and flowers with which its parks and squares are showing the first buds and blooms of spring. The excursion tickets, which are sold at $7,25 from Bellefonte and at proportionately low rates from other stations, admit a stop off at Baltimore in either direction, and are valid for return within ten days.

The special train of parlor cars and day coaches will run as follows, and tickets will be sold at the rates:—

Altoona	7 35	12.05 P.M.
Bellwood	7 35	12.17 "
Bellefonte	7 25	10.34 A.M.
Clearfield	7 25	9.58 "
Philipsburg	7 25	10.41"
Tyrone	7 25	12.27 P. M
Washington, Arrive		7 .45 ".

In addition to the special train the tickets will be good for passage on all trains of the 19th inst. except the Pennsylvania Limited.

Tickets on sale at stations mentioned above. For full information apply to Thomas E. Watt, Passenger Agent Western District, 110 Fifth Avenue, Pittsburg.

AN INDIAN OUTBREAK.

Conflicting Reports as to the Seriousness of the Outbreak.

El Reno, O. T., April 5.—The military authorities at Fort Reno have received further information of the Indian outbreak in C county in Oklahoma. The number of killed and wounded in the first encounter is given as two whites and one Indian killed and one Indian wounded. Information from other and trustworthy sources does not agree with these figures, and is at least twelve hours later. William Delesnier, a trader at Sener, a point thirty-five miles from the origin of the trouble, came in to-day to purchase ammunition to take out to the settlers. The settlers, he says, are collecting at Sener and they have now a company of about 175, and several bands of settlers have gone to the scene of the trouble. The location of the fight is on the Washita river about 115 miles west of El Reno.

Delesenier and a party of settlers went to the scene of the fighting on Monday night and found that fifteen of the Indians and about as many of the whites had been killed. The Indians from other parts of the reservation have hastened to join Red Moon in his contest and he now has 150 men in the fighting band that is moving up the Washita river. A skirmish occurred between a band of Indians and some white men at a point about thirty miles from Contonment, the Indians being on the move to join Red Moon. Two white men were brought into Cantonment that were killed in the encounter, but the number of Indians killed or wounded is not known. Cantonment is not burned, as reported, and it is strongly guarded by the people who have gone there for safety.

Such complexions as so many of our young ladies possess—dull, pimply, and covered with sores and blackheads, is enough to cool the ardor of the warmest lover. To such young ladies we would say, that you can never have a soft fair, smooth, attractive, kissable complexion, unless your blood is healthy and pure, for the condition of the blood decides the complexion. Dr. Pierces Golden Medical Discovery will purify your blood, tone up your system, and drive away those dis tressing headaches and backache, from which you suffer periodically, and give you a complexion a lily or rose-leaf might envy.

AFRICAN DIAMONDS.

The African diamond fields are in the Orange Free State, where there is one important mine at Jagersfontein, and in the British colony of Griqua Land West, where there are four. Of these, the best known are the Kimberley mine and the De Beers, the latter of which was so admirably illustrated in last summer's Columbian Exhibition.

It is but twenty-five years since the gems were discovered on the Dark Continent, and the value of the annual yield now exceeds $20,000,000. It is interesting to note that notwithstanding these large quantities are mined and that diamonds have been so successfully imitated, their value has not declined more than a dollar a carat.

The South African mines have yielded larger stones than any found in Brazil or India. Some of them are of a yellow tint, and therefore of low value; but the De Beers diamond (428½ carats) and the Jagersfontein (969½ carats), the last found less than a year ago, are perfectly white. These weights are for the rough diamonds, but the Kohinoor weighed only 192 carats, and was reduced by cutting to 102⅜ carats.

The Kimberley mine has been worked to a depth of 400 feet, and vertical shafts have now superceded the inclined ones ormerly used as means of entrance.

The quantity and value of the African gems in the market have made great changes in the diamond trade. The Brazilian gravels are now worked very little, as are the fields in India and Borneo. London is the diamond market of the world.

VIGOROUS HEALTH for MEN

THE PASTILLE CURE FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY — TRADE MARK

Prof. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED Pastille

Has been put up in a proprietary form since 1876, and has been used for years prior to that time in private practice. It is no untried nostrum, of doubtful reputation, but a genuine specific for a very prevalent disease. Thousands of men, of all ages, have at some time in life brought on nervous debility and exhaustion, with organic weakness, by over brain work, excesses, too frequent indulgence or indiscretion and vicious habits, and it is to these that we offer a remedy that will, by its direct action upon the seat of the disease, stop the drain and restore the patient to vigorous health and strength.

Our method of introducing Prof. Harris' Pastille treatment is one which commends itself to all sensible persons—for the reason that we supply it upon their judgment of its value. We ask of our patrons nothing in the way of expense beyond a postal card and a two cent postage stamp. The postal card to be used in sending us their full address and the postage stamp for the letter returning the statement of their case for which we supply them with a question blank, to be filled out and an envelope addressed to ourselves for use in returning it when filled.

FREE TRIAL PACKAGE

When we receive the statement on blank we prepare eight days' treatment and forward it by mail and prepay postage thereon—and along with the eight days' treatment we send full directions for using. The treatment in no way interferes with a person's attention to business, and causes no pain or inconvenience in any way.

We are so positive that it will give perfect satisfaction that we leave the matter of sending orders entirely with those using the free trial treatment. Having satisfied those sending for trial packages of our ability to benefit their sexual condition we feel that they are more largely interested than ourselves in continuing the use of the Pastilles. Even then we do not attempt to rob them by demanding high prices. On the contrary, we make the prices as low as possible, and the same to all. They are as follows: $3 for one month; $5 for two months; $7 for three months.

These prices secure the delivery of the Pastilles by mail. If desired by express we leave the patient to pay the charges. For over ten years we have operated our business upon this plan with satisfactory results.

We ask all persons needing treatment for any of the secret ills which come to mankind through a violation of nature's laws to send us their address on a postal card or by letter postal allow us to convince them that PROF. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED PASTILLES have merit and are what they need.

IMPROVEMENTS NEEDED.

The following from the Centre Democrat is so sensible in every way that we copy it in full, expressing the hope that the proper authorities will take immediate action to have the improvements made:

When the county commissioners improved the front of the court house by laying out the grass plots and erecting the fountains, they added much to the appearance of the public property and the diamond. So far, so well.

This spring they should continue the good work by more needed improvements. The hill along the court houss is in bad shape. Old broken lamp posts are lying around, broken tileing from the sewer pipes can be seen at different places, the boxes put around the young maple trees are no further protection to the trees which have grown large enough to be without, and the old rickety frames are cutting and disfiguring the trunks and doing more injury than good. Asphalt side walks should be laid on either side of the park. It is a street and according to the borough ordinance walks should be laid along both sides at once.

The above suggestions are made in the hope that our county commissioners will just walk outside the building and take into consideration the surroundings. That portion of the public ground is not in presentable condition and there is no reason why it should not be done, and it might as well be done at once. So much for the county commissioners. The street on either side of the park, is positively in bad shape. All kinds of rubbage consisting of tin cans, lumber scraps, an abundance of loose stone and rocks are what greet the eyes from the court house on up to the jail.

As this is one of the most conspicuous parts of the town, a point towards which the eyes of most all visitors and strangers is directed, we should have enough local pride to have things in a more presentable condition.

Clean up jail hill.

AN APPROPRIATE TIME.

Wednesday, the 4th, will prove a most momentous date in the life of the venerable Mr. James Hamilton, of Willowbank street, not so much because it was the 90th anniversary of his birth, but because of the happy time he had in celebrating the occasion. His children thought the occasion should be duly observed and elaborate preparations were made. A party of friends, mostly the aged ones of the town, and numbering sixteen all told, were invited there to dinner and enjoyed a most appetizing and delicious meal, as well as a very pleasant time socially.

In the evening a social party of the younger people were held and this was attended by about fifty people, most of whom were relatives of the well preserved gentleman in whose honor the party was given. Meyer's orchestra was present and discoursed some of their best music while the guests were assembling. About nine o'clock Rev. Zehner, of the Evangelical church, made his appearance and made a brief address to the assemblage present, especially directing his remarks to Mr. Hamilton, congratulating him on his advanced age, his good health, etc. At the conclusion of his remarks Rev. Zehner offered a very fervent prayer.

Refreshments were then served consisting of cake of all kinds and descriptions, ice cream of all flavors, fruits, etc. Following the refreshments the young people indulged in dancing until a late hour. During the entire even Mr. Hamilton was as jovial and entertaining as the best of them, telling many anecdotes and stories of his younger days. He also enjoyed the music and dancing as much as anyone present.

The only guests present from a distance were Mr. Charles Wilson, wife and son Wallace, of Altoona.

COMING TO BELLEFONTE.

Today Ira C. Mitchell was a pleasant caller at our office. From him we learned that he has concluded to return to Bellefonte and resume the practice of the law. In 1863 Mr. Mitchell was one of the foremost practicing attorneys at the Centre county bar. He was a brilliant orator and in legal learning he was always at the front of his profession. He left Centre county in 1863 and returned again in 1870 and continued the practice until 1873. Since that time he was engaged in the ministry and was a prominent worker in the Disciple church, and of recent years was located at Troy, Pa.

It is his intention to come back again to his former location and resume his chosen profession. Mr. Mitchell will be a valuable addition to the Centre county bar association.

Politically he is a pronounced democrat and while engaged in the legal profession always took an active part in political affairs.

Mr. Mitchell will locate in Room No. 10 Crider's Exchange, on Allegheny street.

THROUGH CARS.

The Williamsport Republican says:

At present passengers coming to Williamsport via the Central Pennsylvania and Beech Creek railroads are subjected to the annoyance of changing cars at Mill Hall. Arrangements are now being made, however, by which a through car will be run from Bellefonte to this city. The Central's cars are said to be beauties.

GOOD BUSINESS.

During the past three months, from Jan. 1st, 1894, to April 1st, the receipts of the Bellefonte post office have reached $2,601, which is about the average amount and during a dull season of the year. No effort was made to swell or pad this account as could be done. It shows that while neighboring towns are complaining of a dull season Bellefonte is doing better than usual.

A BOY'S SORROWFUL STORY.

When the mail train from Grampian arrived at the Clearfield depot on Thursday afternoon, a young and rather shabbily dressed boy emerged from the baggage car and stood bewildered in the crowd as the train moved out of the depot. Some town boys noticed the slovenly appearance of the stranger, and soon they gathered about him and learned his story. He gave his name as Joseph Wynbolt, and stated that four years ago his mother died at Helvetia and that after her death his father moved to a point near Rockton, and lived in a little shanty with two sisters, himself and two younger brothers. That about two weeks ago his father, without cause, whipped him on the naked back with a raw hide, then kicked him out of the house and forbade him ever entering his door again. He wandered to Curwensville, then to Grampian, and all over the country, sleeping at night with tramps at the tannery or wherever he could lodge. The boys were greatly interested in his story and a crowd numbering about thirty, headed by John Chase, escorted him to the house of the Secretary of the Children's Aid Society, took him into the back yard and invited the Secretary out, when Mr. Chase related to her the boy's pitiful story. The boy was taken in charge, provided with a place to sleep, a new outfit purchased, and he was fixed up in good shape. He gave his age as 13 years, is a bright appearing boy and tells a straight story. He has an honest face and a good eye. If his story is correct the Humane Society should hunt up the cruel father and teach him that if he has no more regard for his offspring than to turn them out into the world without clothing or food, that there is a law to punish in this world, and a judgment for all such creatures in the next.

N. B.—Since the above was in type the boy has been placed in the home of John Fulton, in Goshen township, and was at church on Sunday for the first time in his life.—Raftsman's Journal.

DON'T BE IN A HURRY.

We heard an old, experienced farmer make the remark the other that "there always comes a time in spring, after everything has started, when it seems as if the grass went back into the ground instead of growing. Yet we are deceived by it every year, and think that spring has come." So many people clean house the first warm days and take down stoves, and then are chilly and miserable, and have bad colds, huddling in the kitchen, or freezing in the parlor for a few weeks every spring. Nobody around here is safe in taking down stoves until the latter part of April or beginning of May. There are rainy days and chilly nights, when many a house, where women seem to have a mania for house cleaning, has cold, comfortless rooms, instead of warm, cheery ones. Keep up the stoves. We have had a wave of cold weather for the last week and we may get some more like it.

—An exchange says that unless the present prevailing style of bicycle riding is changed and a more upright position assumed by the generality of riders, we shall have more men and boys suffering with diseased spines than the country has ever known or dreamed of. The observations of medical men have resulted not only in such conclusions, but more than that, that such bent-up position while riding the wheel is calculated to produce injurious effects upon the heart, the lungs, the liver and other organs.

—On Tuesday, April 3rd, Miss Mollie, the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Palmer died at the home of her parents at Potters Mills. She was a beautiful girl and will be greatly missed by a large circle of sorrowing friends and acquaintances. There are left to mourn her early death her parents and five brothers and sisters. The funeral occurred this morning, interment being made in the Methodist cemetery near that place.

FORTNEY AS POSTMASTER.

The long drawn out contest for the appointment as postmaster at this place is finally ended—was ended on Wednesday when President Cleveland recommended the name of D. F. Fortney, Esq., for that appointment. The contest was a hot one and up until the last minute it was a question just who would get it. It is true, Mr Fortney had probably the largest backing but there are times when even this don't count for much and for a while it looked as if this would be one of the times. But it is all over now and done with and there is no doubt whatever but that the appointment will result in giving the best of satisfaction.

Mr. Fortney is a man fully capable of conducting the intricate business affairs of the office. And, being at the same time, enthusiastically enterprising and pushing there is not the least danger of Bellefonte's mail facilities being allowed to retrograde under his administration, but it is fair to predict that he will use every means in his power to advance and build up the postal facilities of Bellefonte and vicinity. With his many friends we join in tending our congratulations to Mr. Fortney on his appointment.

BOTH SAINT AND SINNER.

It troubles the sinner and troubles the saint-
Its a troublesome, trying and nasty complaint,
Dont think it incurable; I tell you it ain't.

Excuse the grammar; it's the truth I'm after, whether gramatically ungramatically told. The truth is, that catarrh can be cured. The proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy offer $500 for an incurable case of Catarrh in the Head.

THE SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.—Headache, obstruction of nose, discharges falling into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody, putrid and offensive; eyes weak, ringing in the ears, deafness; offensive breath, smell and taste impaired and general debility. Only a few of these symptoms likely to be present at once. Dr. Sage's Remedy cures the worst cases. Only 50 cents. Sold by druggists everywhere.

—And now Muncy has a case of smallpox.

—And the same day it snowed—also the next day.

—Clinton county jail has only three inmates at preseut.

—The Pennsylvania Fish Commission is still sending out trout fry from the hatchery ot Corry.

—The farmers of Lamar and vicinity are anxious to have a creamery started in that neighborhood.

—Remember the lecture in P. O. S. of A. hall Thursday evening by Rev. Maynard, of Lock Haven.

—There is a lady in Nittany Valley who has just given her fifteenth party this season. Such cordial unbounded hospitality is rare.

—Week after next is court week. The criminal list for trial is a large one and about six persons have a fair prospect of a free trip over the mountain.

—Owing to failing health, Editor Nash, of the Huntingdon Journal, offers that establishment for sale, with the assurance that the outfit is complete in every particular.

—The snow of last night broke all telegraphic communication from Bellefonte to the outside world. The telephone company, however, experienced no trouble whatever.

—The mail for Nittany Valley under the new service lies at Mill Hall from morning until evening, greatly inconveniencing the business men. The P. O. department will be petitioned to make a change.

—The new University Inn at the State College was opened for business last week. It is a handsome, commodious hostelry and already has quite a number of professors and students as regular boarders.

—State Superintendent of Public Instruction Schaeffer, in answer to a question, says he knows of no legal objection to a person over 21 years of age attending the public schools if such person so desires.

—Ellis Bierly, of Milesburg, went to Tyrone Monday and purchased himself a bicycle. He might have gotten just as good a wheel in Bellefonte for as little money as he would have to pay in Tyrone.

—On Tuesday R. J. Schadd & Brother put in a large new safe of the Hall make. It weighs thirteen hundred pounds and is a beauty. We are glad to see this evidence of prosperity with these enterprising young men.

—The attorneys in the Pollard-Breckenridge case appear to be very anxious what the judge shall say to the jury, but the principals in the case are undoubtedly more interested in what the jury will say to the judge.

—Mrs. Nora Knapp, wife of W. O. Knapp, aged 19 years and a bride of but four weeks and four days, died suddenly of heart failure at her home in Salona an Monday. She was as well as usual up to one hour before her death.

—Don't forget the lecture by Rev. Maynard in P. O. S. of A. hall on Thursday evening. The meeting will be public and free and everybody is invited. In addition to Rev. Maynard there will be a number of additional addresses by prominent Bellefonters.

—Rev. H. A. Grant, of Philipsburg, will lecture in the A. M. E. church of this place Thursday evening, the 12th, on "The Educational Progress of the Afro-American since the Proclamation of Emancipation." Admission only 15 cents. Everybody is invited.

—Saturday's storm raged until late at night but Sunday morning dawned fair and beautiful only a little cold. Sunday was a pleasant day throughout, if it was a little cool, and was taken advantage of by all church goers and those who hunted pleasure on the promenades.

—Mr. T. Wilson Way, one of the long time residents of Halfmoon township where he was born and raised, has moved with his family from his farm there to State College. He done this in order to be near that grand institution of learning that his children may attend the College.

—This was a good morning to tax the energies of a lazy man but, judging from the number of uncleaned—or, at least, just partially cleaned—pavements at noon the energy was still untaxed. Some people, it appears, would sooner wade through snow on their own pavements than take the trouble to shovel it off. Such men should live out in the country.

—Next Saturday evening, April 14th, Gen. Benjamin F. Fisher will lecture in the chapel at State College on "Reminiscences of War Life in, and Escape from, Libby Prison." The proceeds will be devoted to the benefit of the College foot ball team. Gen. Fisher is a brilliant speaker and as his acquaintance with his subject comes of personal experience, he is undoubtedly thoroughly conversant with everything he says. The price of admission will be but 35 and 50 cents.

NATIONAL GUARD.

Report of Adjutant General on the State Militia.

The Patriot says: Adjutant General Greenland's annual report for the year 1893, the advance copies of which were issued yesterday, showed that there are 790,451 men enrolled in the state subject to military duty. The aggregate strength of the division composing the national guard of the state on December 31, 1893, was 8,612, a gain of 201 over the previous year. In the first brigade there are 203 commissioned officers, and 2,551 enlisted men; in the second brigade 236 commissioned officers and 2,932 enlisted men, and in the third brigade, 207 commissioned officers and 4,437 enlisted men.

Company F, eighteenth regiment was mustered out during the year and four companies organized—division A and B, first naval battalion; divison A, second naval battalion and company F, eighteenth regiment. General Greenland says the spring inspections showed evidence of marked improvement in nearly every case.

The cost of the regimental encampment for the year is as follows: Pay of troops, $136,207.96; subsistence, $12,563.32; transportation, $13,690.75; quartermaster's department, $2,627.33; horse hire, $8,314.06—total, $178,403.42. Number present at inspection, 8.431; average attendance in camp, 98 1; average cost per man, $21.16.

The division contained 7.656 marksmen at the close of the year, an increase of [illegible] over the previous year, and 1,157 sharpshooters, an increase of 431 over 1892. Of the organization of the naval battalions the adjutant general says this branch of the guard has "brought to our force a class of young men who have heretofore remained outside the guard, and their attention to drill and discipline and love of the service has brought forth the praise and commendation of their superior officers, and fully justified the policy of organizing this force."

General Greenland says the three batteries have been furnished with new guns and harness. He proposes to organize the bicyle attachment and the engineer corps shortly as an attachment to the divisional headquarters. More progress has been made, he says, last year in the erection of armories than for many years. He regrets that the limited appropriation will not permit his acceptance of the large number of applications to raise new companies.

DRAUGHTS.

A prominent Philadelphia physician says "It is a singular thing that animals as a rule are much more observant of the ordinary rules of health than human beings are. One half of the serious colds and many of the fatal fevers originate through the exposure of the body to a direct draught of air from a window to a door, or between doors or windows. It is one of the most common things to see overheated persons on a warm day with coat and waistcoat off, enjoying what to them seems to be an agreeable breeze between two open windows. A day later they feel badly, have taken cold and they can't tell where. A dog will lie for hours on a porch, in the room, or hallway, but the very moment open doors or windows allow a current of air to touch him he jumps up and changes his lounging place. You can't force a dog to lie in the draft; he knows the risk and invariably avoids it." —[Ex.

LONG TRIP TO MEET HER LOVER.

Says a Harrisburg special of April 4: A long journey to meet her intended husband, whom she never saw, was begun to-day by Miss Alice G. Yingst, of Sand Beech, this county. She is one of the largest women in this part of the State, weighing 338 pounds. She is 26 years old and several months ago answered a matrimonial advertisement signed by Harry Cratzer, of Cœurd, Alene, Idaho. The two courted by mail, he proposed and she accepted. He sent her $100 to pay the expenses of her trip West, as he could not come East for his intended bride She is now on the way to the far northwest to meet her lover.

ALL BORN IN 1809.

A wave of great men (or babies that were destined to become great) seems to have swept over the world in 1809. Why they precipitated upon the world during that particnlar year will, perhaps, never be known, but it is a fact that the following named historical personages count it as the birth year: Lincoln, Gladstone, Darwin, Edgar Allen Pope, Cyrus McCarmic, Benjamin Pierce, Alfred Tennyson Mark Lemon, Jules Favre, Raphael Semms, Albert Pike and Oliver Wendell Holmes.

HERE'S A MASCOT.

The Pittsburg base ball club are after a mascot who will certainly bring good luck to the team. It is a boy who fell from a seven story building at Denuer a few days ago, and in the descent struck a number of wires, bounded in the air, then lit on another roof lower down, and finally struck on the back of a horse. The animal was killed by the shock, but the lad was receiving congratulations three minutes after for his miraculous escape. Whew!

—On Thursday evening the Bellefonte Lodge, P. O. S. of A. will have an evening of special exercises. Rev. Maynard, of Lock Haven, will be present and deliver a lecture on the Growth and Standing of the order. J. C. Meyer, Esq., will make the opening address of the evening, and following Rev. Maynard there will be addresses by General Hastings, Wilbur F. Reeder, John G. Love and Clement Dale, Esqs. The public in geueral is invited to attend this meeting which will be held in their hall in the McClain block.

A CURIEUS RELIC OF THE WAR.

Walter French has a curious relic of the war. It is a watch with a bullet firmly imbedded is one side of the case. The watch belongs to Capt. McGunnigle, who was a member of the Ninth Massachusetts infantry volunteers, and now lives in East Boston. In 1864, at the battle of Laurel Hill, during the battles of the Wilderness, Capt. McGunningle was carrying the watch in his breast pocket when he was struck by a bullet. The bullet could not penetrate the watch, and his life was saved. When the watch was shown to O'Ferrall of Virginia, he became interested at once, and told how, during the war, he was carrying an old-fashioned daguerreotype of his sweetheart in his pocket, and a bullet struck it and glanced off, saving his life. It was the picture of a Raltimore girl, but the end of the romance was out of the ordinary run. When the war ended and O'Farrall looked her up he found her married to another man, and thus she lost her chance of becoming the wife of the governor of Virginia.—Boston Advertiser.

DEATH OF LEWIS A. SIGEL.

Monday morning at 9 o'clock Lewis A. Sigel died at his home, corner of Second avenue and Willow street, Juniata, aged 33 years, 8 months and 12 days. His death was the result of a series of accidents. He was a machinist, being employed in the Juniata shops, and he was first injured by the breaking of the belt with which he was struck, and after he had partially recovered from the blow, while helping to carry a tub of water last Thursday, he ruptured a blood vessel connected with the heart, and this, causing inward hemorrhages, was the immediate cause of death. He is survived by hi wife and six children—two daughters and four sons. He was a member of Half Moon lodge of Odd Fellows and also of Altoona encampment, No. 129, Independent Order of Odd Fellows. Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. B. S. Dise at the late home of the deceased this evening at 8.30 o'clock and on Wednesday morning at 7.15 o'clock the remains will be placed on the train, which will stop at Juniata, and will be taken to Stormstown, Centre county, where interment will be made.—Altoona Tribune.

INSTITUTING A COUNCIL.

Tussey Council No. 515, Jr. O. U. A. M., was instituted Friday evening at Pine Grove Mills, Centre county, by District Deputy S. F. Snyder of Tyrone, assisted by a delegation from Good will Council No. 42, of that place. The new council started with twenty-seven members, and promises to flourish exceedingly.

The Tyrone party which performed the work of initiation and institution comprised S. F. Snyder, W. F. Hiller, James Cree, J. D. Lucas, Edward Igou, Irvin Gray, David McCyy, Charles Igou, William Fetters and Andrew Palmer. They drove to Pine Grove Mills Friday afternoon, returning Saturday morning. The delegation was entertained by the new council of the staid old Centre county village.

FINES FOR INTOXICATION.

Section 29 of the act of March 31, 1859, recently unearthed by the Harrisburg school board, provides that fines imposed for drunkenness shall be turned over to the treasurer of the school board in the district. The section is as follows: "Any person who shall be found intoxicated in any street, highway, public house or public place, shall be fined upon the view or proof made before any mayor, alderman or justice of the peace, two dollars, to be levied, with the proper costs, upon the goods and chattles of the defendant, which shall be paid to the treasurer of the school district where such conviction is had by the magistrate collecting the same."

—The class of '94 at State College will give their spring assembly Friday evening, April 20, in the spacious army at the College. Stopper & Fisk's orchestra of Williamsport, will furnish the music. The committee of arrangements are Roger Bowman, John B. Hench, W. H. Rebhun. Boyd A. Musser, W. A. Banks and W. B. Waite. The patronesses will be Mesdames D. H. Hastings, C. W. Roberts, George W. Atherton, T. W. Kinkaid, Fred P. Emery, John Wilson, J. C. M. Hamilton, George L. Potter, J. Price Jackson, George C. Butz, A. Mason, E. R. Chambers, J. O. Dreisbach, W. P. Duncan and B. P. Hewes.

—The case against Mr. and Mrs. Harmon, for cruelty to a child, which was continued from January sessions of court to April, will come off now in two weeks. The boy has entirely recovered from all his ill-treatment and is now perfectly well and will be able to appear in court to give evidence in the case. There is not near the excitement now over the approaching trial that there was in January.

—No sensible person will deny that it is quite as wrong for a man to get drunk as a woman, but the sex is highly complimented by the horror and surprise manifested when a woman falls a victim to a habit so common among men that every community must be cursed with places legalized to satisfy this debasing taste.

AN ARMORY FOR CO. B.

Col. W. Fred Reynolds Will Build One on Corner of Lamb and Spring Streets.

It is an admitted fact that Company B, N. G. P., of Bellefonte, is one of the strongest and best companies in the Fifth Regiment, but its progress towards proficiency has always been greatly retarded because of no suitable place in which to hold meetings and, especially, drills. To overcome this, it has often been suggested, and even business men have proposed the erection of an armory, but up to this time it has been all talk and no action.

Now, however, we are glad to announce that an armory for Company B is an assured fact and will be materially in shape before the summer is well spent. Col. W. Fred. Reynolds has purchased from Mr. F. W. Crider the lot on the northwest corner of Lamb and Spring streets, and also from Mr. John P. Harris the lot adjoining on the west. On these two he proposes to erect an armory about 80 feet wide by 120 long. It will be built of stone—probably brown stone—and in the most modern style of architecture and design. It will be furnished inside with every convenience necessary and in a manner to combine both beauty and service. The grounds surrounding will be filled up and leveled off so that when completed Company B will have a home to be proud of and one not surpassed by any military organization in the state outside the large cities.

Work will be commenced on the building as soon as practicable and will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. For this move of public spiritedness—which is undoubtedly in the right direction—Col. Reynolds is to be commended, and Company B is to be congratulated on having as a superior officer a man who has their welfare and advancement so much at heart as has Mr. Reynolds.

FOR PENSIONERS.

Pension agents in this city have received the following circular:

The pension certificate must be exhibited at the execution of each and every voucher. When a pensioner signs a mark, two witnesses who can write are required in the body of the voucher, and one witness who can write in each of the duplicates. When the pensioner writes his name, no witness to his signature is necessary in the body of the voucher; but his signature in each of the duplicate receipts must be witnessed by a person who can write his own name. The magistrate before whom a voucher is presented is not a competent witness in any case, except that such magistrate may witness in the duplicate receipts the signature of a pensioner who writes his own name. The post office address of the pensioner must be plainly written in the body of the voucher.

POSTOFFICE NOTES.

On the door in the postoffice leading from the public waiting room to the inside enclosure there has hung a sign for several years which reads.

NO ADMITTANCE
EXCEPT ON OFFICIAL BUSINESS.

The sign did not seem to have the desired effect, as within the past twenty-four hours another and much plainer one was put out. On reading it some wag added a line and now the second sign reads as follows:

PLEASE STAY OUT
To D. F. FORTNEY, ESQ.

The above is postoffice literature, original with the officials and the public, and, although thus far it has proven somewhat meaningless, yet, there is no doubt of its suggestiveness.

BUDINGER'S STORE BURNED.

Some time during Monday night fire was discovered in the hay room of T. B. Budinger's store at Snow Shoe. When discovered the flames had already gained such headway that, with the meagre fire protection offered in that place, it was impossible to save from destruction considerable property. From the hay room the fire communicated to the store room, the ice house and another ware room, all of which were burned before the flames were gotten under control. The main store building, however, was saved from destruction, but the goods are all pretty well smoked. Mr. Budinger being away from home it is impossible at this writing to give any estimate of the loss sustained, but it is likely to be heavy. The property was insured. It is not known how the fire originated.

—Anything regarding the late war, the trials and tribulations of our boys in blue in southern prison pens, and especially an escape from Libby prison, has always a great interest for the young American minds. Gen. B. F. Fisher, in his lecture in the College chapel at State College on Saturday evening, April 14th, will tell things that will both interest and instruct you. He knows the whole story because it is one of personal experience with him. If forty tickets are purchased by Bellefonters the Bellefonte Central railroad will run a special train to the College and return after the lecture. Tickets are on sale at Parrish's store and already about thirty have been taken. Don't let this opportunity pass to hear a most interesting lecture, and enjoy an excursion to the College at the same time.

This company has made arrangements to produce "Herculaneum," a pyrotechnic spectacle of the character of "Last Days of Pompeii" and "Sebastopol." Several acres of ground near Tyrone has been secured for the erection of a fireworks factory.

WASHINGTON'S RESOURCES.

What a Traveler Saw on One Trip in That Great State.

Mr. George Berryhill, a former Centre contian, now living in Sisseton, Roberts Co., South Dakota, writes us an account of a trip made through the new State of Washington. His letter is as follows:

I was employed by the N. P. R. R. as assistant mining engineer and coal expert for a period of two years and, while holding that position, I became acquainted with all the resources of this great state, especially minerals, quarries, timber and agriculture. My first trip is worthy of mention. I took the Seattle, Lake Shore & Easton road at Tacoma for North Bend, which is situated sixty-one miles distant in the mountains. The next morning after my arrival at that place I engaged a team and wagon to take a party twenty-eight miles further up the Snoqualuni river. This part of the journey was through the finest timber I ever saw. I believe the average estimate is 18,000,000 to the quarter section. We got to the State Cabin, which is within six miles of the Denny Iron Mines, where we spent the night. Next morning the team was sent back and we started for the mine camp on foot, where we arrived about four o'clock in the evening.

While the boys set the tents I went to a nearby brook and caught enough trout to make a good supper for five men. Next morning we ascended the mountain to a barometer elevation of 1300 feet above camp site, to the iron croppings. Here were found ledges containing red hematite, black pebble and magnetic ore, some fully 60 per cent, pure iron. We also collected quite a variety of ores containing gold, silver and lead.

Our guide having left us I started alone for Easton, thirty-two miles distant through the Cascade mountains. I had never been on the trail and, in fact, had been in the state only a short time. It was quite an undertaking alone, for the snow was 2½ feet deep in some places, but I managed to reach Easton by eight o'clock that night. Easton being nothing more than a section house and station I spent the night in the waiting room until the two o'clock train arrived, which I boarded for Roslyn. After several days' rest I started for the Cleabroni iron mines. This journey was far more difficult than any former one owing to the spring freshets having washed the trail away in so many places. The Cleabroni ledges, nine in number, lie on the river flats. You can drive a wagon a distance of two miles on solid ore. This is where the strong magnetic ore is found. I brought a piece of the ore back with me that would hold fifty pounds of nails; it was about the size of a half bushel measure. The mines are owned by English syndicates and cannot be bought at any price.

After doing the estimate surveying work for the Roslyn Coal company I returned to Tacoma. The following day I was instructed to collect sections of trees for the N. P. exhibit at Western Washington Exposition. Off of one section of land I collected thirteen varieties of valuable timber, namely: Fir, cedar, spruce, hemlock, alder, barveny—or casca, seegrada, yew, vine maple, maple, ash and others. The fir measured 33 feet in circumference ten feet from the ground. The first limb was 128 feet from the ground, where the circumference was 20 feet. The full length of the tree was 368 feet and its age 403 years.

Later on I collected samples of fruits, hops and vegetables. I brought two sample poles of hops from the Meeker farm which averaged 5290 pounds to the acre. Potatoes yield an average of 380 bushels to the acre and wheat 65 bushels. In my next letter I will tell you of my trip to the gold and silver mines in the Okanogan district.
